MATISH CHANDRA BANERJI. District Judge, Tribunal.

Industrial dispute between Messrs. F. W. Heilgers & Co., Ltd., Managing Agents of Titaghur Paper Mills Nos. 1 and 2, Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Bengal Kagazkal Mazdoor Union of 10, Bustee Lane, post office Kankinara, district 24-Parganas.

AWARD.

This reference relates to an industrial dispute between Messrs. F. W. Heilgers & Co., Ltd., Managing Agents of the Titaghur Paper Mills Nos. 1 and 2, Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Bengal Kagazkal Mazdoor Union of 10, Bustee Lane, post office Kankinara, district 24-Parganas, respecting issues not adjudicated on in the Award made in the Commerce, Labour and Industries (Labour) Department Order No. 347Lab., dated the 20th August 1947, because of a Rule of the Hon'ble High Court restraining the Tribunal from adjudicating thereon. This reference was made by the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries (Labour) Department by Order No. 309Lab., dated 6th February 1948, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Sri N. C. Chakravarti as the Additional District Judge of the

By Order No. 2860Lab., dated 17th August 1948, the Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Commerce, Labour and Industries (Labour) Department, partially modified the abovementioned Order No. 309Lab., dated 6th February 1948 and referred the disputes under section 8(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act to me for Adjudication, in place of Sri N. C. Chakravarti Additional District Judge, whose services were no longer available.

Notices were issued on Messrs. F. W. Heilgers & Co., which will be mentioned hereafter as the Company, and the Bengal Kagazkal Mazdoor Union mentioned hereafter as the Union, representing the workmen of the two mills. The Company and the Union filed written statements setting out their cases.

The Titaghur Paper Mills Nos. 1 and 2 are two of the four paper mills in Bengal. The other two mills are the Indian Paper Pulp Co., Ltd., at Hajinagar, Narhati, and the Bengal Paper Mills at Raniganj. At the present time the Titaghur Paper Mills Nos. 1 and 2 are the largest units in the industry in India and employ about 6,000 workmen out of 9,000 workmen employed in the industry in Bengal. They produce about 60 per cent. of the total outturn of paper in the entire industry in Bengal. The mills are located in the industrial belt of Calcutta on the banks of the Hooghly with a predominance of jute mills. The Mill No. 1 is at Titaghur which is about 13 miles to the north of Calcutta and the Mill No. 2 is at Kankinara which is about 10 miles further north.

Before the latter part of 1946 there were no unions functioning in any of the mills. The Paper Mill Employees' Union in Mill No. 1 and the Bengal Kagazkal Mazdoor Union in Mill No. 2 were formed by a number of employees in each of the mills on 3rd December 1946.

The last great war commenced in September 1939, and Calcutta and its industrial belt came to experience ravages of aerial bombings by the Japanese from the latter part of December 1942. The Union's case is that on the commencement of aerial bombing of the Calcutta area, the workmen employed in the industries in and around Calcutta were in panic on account of the terror of aerial bombing and threat of such bombing and were on the point of leaving their place of employment. The Union states that at this predicament when owing to the demands of the conditions of war, production of Company's goods on a huge scale and in a measure of maximum intensity was required, the Managing Agents of the Titaghur Paper Mills and in particular, Mr. Selater, the Managing of Mill No. 1, made verbal promises that the workers of the Company would get a deferred war bonus at the rate of one day's pay for every month of the war period, on the termination of the war, in recognition of the labour put in by the workers during the war. The Managing Agents made such promises and representations to the Company's workers through their officers and with the object of persuading them to continue to work at Titaghur and Kankinara at the Company's mills in spite of the adverse conditions of employment and the widespread panic and they thereby succeeded in making the production of Company's goods possible during the period of war. With the termination of the war management failed and neglected to pay to the workmen any deferred war bonus although the same Managing Agents paid a deferred war bonus to a number of jute mills under their management and situated in the same area as the Titaghur Paper Mills. The workmen by letter dated 9th August 1946 applied to the Managing Agents for payment of the deferred bonus but received no reply. In these circumstances, the two Unions were formed in December 1946. The workmen of the Mill No. 1 formed the Paper Mill Employees' Union and those of the Mill No. 2, the Bengal Kagaskal Masdoor Union. The Unions were duly registered. After the Unions were formed, they carried on correspondence with the management for redress of grievances of the workmen in the two mills including that relating to the deferred war bonus.

By a letter dated 19th December 1946, the Secretary of the Paper Mills Employees' Union wrote to the Managing Agents asking for the payment of 72 days' pay for the Company's workers as deferred bonus along with two other demands. The Bengal Kagaskal Masdoor Union of Mill No. 2 made similar demands for the workmen in that mill and this Union also repeated its demand by a second letter dated 20th January 1947. The Unions did not get any reply to these letters of demands. The Paper Mill Employees' Union by a letter dated 29th January 1947 gave the management a strike notice intimating that the workers would go on strike on any day after 1st March 1947, unless their demands as mentioned in the notice were fulfilled. It may be mentioned that this notice listed four fresh demands over and above those in the letter dated 19th December 1946. The Bengal Kagaskal Masdoor Union sent a similar strike notice to the Company by a letter dated 17th February 1947 intimating its decision to go on strike on any date after 4th March 1947 unless the demands mentioned in the letter were met. These demands were identical with those mentioned in the letter dated 29th January 1947 by the Paper Mill Employees' Union of Mill No. 1. The demands in both the abovementioned strike notices were as follows:—

- (1) Recognition of the Union.
- (2) 72 days' pay as deferred bonus that was promised by the authorities during the war.
- (3) Dearness allowance should be Rs. 40 for all workers instead of cheap ration from the welfare stores.
- (4) 25 per cent. general increment for all workers.
- (5) Introduction of grade system.
- (6) Annual bonus equivalent to one month's pay."

The Company did not send any reply to any of these notices either and the two Unions formed a joint strike committee and sent a letter dated 13th March 1947 to the Labour Commissioner, Bengal, the Managing Agents of the mills, the Managers of the two mills, intimating that the workers of both the mills will go on strike from the next day, i.e., 14th of March 1947.

The Company declined to accede to the demands of the workmen and in spite of the efforts of the Labour Commissioner to the Government of Bengal for effecting a settlement of the disputes, the workers of both the mills struck work on 14th March 1947, for redress of their grievances. This strike continued for 70 days till 22nd May 1947 and the workers resumed work on 23rd May 1947. In the meantime the Industrial Disputes Act came into operation and the Government of Bengal, on 5th May 1947, referred the disputes under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act to Mr. E. S. Simpson, as the Tribunal for adjudication. As Mr. Simpson's services were not available, the Government of Bengal, on 4th June 1947, appointed Dr. H. G. Waight, as a Tribunal for adjudication of the said disputes.

During the proceedings of the strike referred by Dr. H. G. Waight, written statements were filed by both the parties and evidence was framed for decision. The Tribunal, after having heard the parties, made the following award:—
 Court, Calcutta, 1st December 1947.

issues, mentioned hereafter, relating to profit-sharing bonus and pay for the strike and a Rule was issued by the Hon'ble High Court restraining the Tribunal Dr. H. G. Waight adjudicating on these three issues. As a result the Tribunal (Dr. H. G. Waight) adjudicated the rest of the issues and made an Award thereon without adjudicating on the three issues mentioned. The Award of Dr. Waight was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 28th August 1947. Rule issued by the Hon'ble High Court in one of the three issues was discharged in the month of December 1947.

As the three issues mentioned above were adjudicated on by the previous Tribunal Dr. Waight, the Government of West Bengal mentioned above, made this present reference Sri N. C. Chakravarti on 6th February 1948 thereafter to me on 17th August 1948 for a decision.

The Union in its statement claims "deferred bonus not only in view of the management promises and the representations as aforesaid also in view of the conditions of employment of workers particularly during the period of aforesaid apart from any question of promises and representations". The Union further claims "a suitable and reasonable amount of bonus for the years 1945 and 1946, particularly in view of the fact that the business of the Company during production and sale of its products were in the same manner as production and sale during the period of war. Finally in view of the Company's long-standing position in the community of the country and the tremendous work which it has always made, and still makes the Union claims that bonus should be paid by the Company in future every year on the basis of a just and reasonable system of profit-sharing. Lastly, the Union claims "that the management should pay to all workers of the Company who went and remained on the said strike, their wages at the full rate for the whole of the said period."

The Company in its written statement denies the allegations of the Union as to adverse conditions of labour and stated, inter alia, that the promise, verbal or otherwise, was made that deferred war bonus would be paid to the workmen of the Titaghur Paper Mills and Mr. Selater, the late Manager of No. 1 Mill, had no authority to make a promise as alleged and the Company denied that he ever did so. The Company further states that "so far as its knowledge goes there was no panic in the area in which the mills are situated." The Company admits that it received several communications from the two Unions but complains that no information was given to the management of the composition and number of such Unions and that on 27th February 1947 the management saw the Labour Commissioner ascertain from him that the membership of the Bengal Kagaskal Masdoor Union represented only a small proportion of the workers, namely, 40 per cent. It is further stated, that the representations of the two Unions were not replied to having regard to the non-representative capacity of the Unions and the harmonious relations then existing between the employer and the employees as a result of which no reply was called for. In the circumstances no reply was called for by the Company that there was no justification for the strike or for its continuation. The mills were never closed and the workers were at liberty to redress any grievance in any manner, had they so chosen. The Company further states that the Labour Commissioner recommended that the workmen should be allowed to follow the Labour Commissioner's recommendations and allow work to resume. The Company further states that the workmen were not entitled to any award of the strike.

Company in its written statement raised the issue. This Tribunal had no jurisdiction to entertain issues relating to bonus or to what was called "strike pay" and further, that there was no dispute between Messrs. F. W. Heilgers and the Company, and the order of reference was invalid. These objections were not pressed at the time of the hearing of the case and no issues were sought to be framed thereon.

The hearing of this case was stayed by the High Court, Calcutta, on the application of the Company for a writ of certiorari on the ground that the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to entertain the claim for bonus preferred by the Union. The Hon'ble High Court in its order, dated 11 September 1948, decided that the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to entertain the issue raised by the Union and dismissed the application with costs. There was an appeal against this order to the Hon'ble Federal Court which was dismissed by the Hon'ble Court on 17 March 1949. The hearing of this case in the Hon'ble High Court and in the Federal Court was commenced on 12th

March 1949. The hearing went on with the three issues framed by the previous Tribunal. Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel for the Union, and no further issues were raised by the Company. These three issues are mentioned below:

Representation for the parties were as follows:—

Union—Sri A. K. Rai Mukherji, Counsel, Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, assisted by Sri K. Pyne, Secretary, Bengal Kagazkai Mazdoor Union, and Sri H. D. Chatterji, Secretary, Paper Mills Employees' Union.

Company—Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel, assisted by Sri J. K. Ghosh, Pleader of Law, Messrs. Orr, Dignam and Co., Solicitors, and Sri A. McAuliffe.

Issues left undecided by the previous Tribunal. Dr. H. G. Waight and referred to this Tribunal for adjudication are issues Nos. 2, 6 and 7. The issues are framed in the previous proceeding.

The issues mentioned below:—

1. Is there any bonus payable?

2. Could deferred bonus be paid? If so, at what rate?

3. Could bonus be paid for 1945 and 1946?

4. Profit-sharing bonus—

5. Any share of profit-sharing be introduced? If so, what?

6. Strike pay—

7. Pay for the strike period be awarded?

DECISION.

Issue No. 1: Bonus.

1. Could deferred bonus be paid? If so, at what rate?

The claim of the Union in this head is for a 72 days' bonus calculated at the rate of 1/30th of the basic pay for every month of the last Great War, commencing on 1st September 1939 and ending on 1st August 1945. It is claimed that for the purpose of the bonus the 72 months period of the war was 1939 to 1945. In the subsequent years 1946 the Union claimed a general bonus of 72 days' bonus for the purpose of part (b)

This claim of deferred war bonus of 72 days' pay has been laid on two grounds—

- (a) verbal promise and representations of the authorities of the Company for giving the workmen extra remuneration at the rate of one day's pay for every month of the war. It is stated that such a promise was made to compensate the labour for the rigorous of employment during the period of the war, as well as to persuade them to stand by the mills in the face of the panic of aerial bombing, and
- (b) as extra remuneration for the workmen in view of the difficult conditions of work in the war period, the rise in the cost of living and the unusually large profits earned by the Company during the years of war.

The earliest document showing the nature of the claim of the workmen on this item of bonus is Exhibit A, a letter to the Manager of the mills, dated July 1946, subscribed to by 62 workmen, of whom P.W. 1 Jagadish Chandra Roy is one. This letter shows that Messrs. Bird & Co., Managing Agents of eleven jute mills and the two paper mills, declared a bonus named deferred war bonus for the workmen of the jute mills, who would serve throughout the war period starting from the Jap bombing, that this bonus amounted to 1½ months to 2 months' salary and that the Paper Mills' employees also should be granted this bonus as they also suffered from the strenuous conditions of labour throughout the whole period of aerial bombing just as the workers of the jute mills.

A second letter with identical terms was addressed by the workmen of the two mills on 9th August 1946 to Messrs. F. W. Heilgers & Co. for the payment of a deferred war bonus similar to that given to the workers of the jute mills, under the same Managing Agents. This letter appears at page 18 of the Paper Book of the appeal to the Federal Court. It may be mentioned here that Messrs. Bird & Co., and Messrs. F. W. Heilgers & Co., though separate companies, conduct their business in combination.

The Union's case is that no reply was received to these letters and to other similar letters addressed to the Company from time to time, demanding the payment of a deferred war bonus on the lines of the scheme in the jute mills under Messrs. Bird/Heilgers & Co. The Company pointed out that it sent a letter on 5th August 1946 and a copy of this letter is Exhibit B. This letter was addressed to the Manager of Mill No. 1 who was directed to communicate the decision of the Company to the workmen. The Company in this letter informed the Manager that deferred bonus scheme was not meant for the paper mill employees who always had received better remuneration than jute mill workers and for whom there was no necessity for a deferred bonus scheme. The Union does not admit that this reply of the Company was ever communicated to the workmen and P.W. 1 Jagadish Chandra Roy, the workman in Mill No. 1, and the Assistant Secretary of the Union of Mill No. 1, states in his evidence that no reply was received to any of the representations for recovery of deferred war bonus.

According to the evidence of Jagadish Roy, the Paper Mills Employees' Union in Mill No. 1 and the Bengal Kagazkai Mazdoor Union of Mill No. 2 were formed on 3rd December 1946. The learned Counsel for the Company pointed out to me that the claim of the deferred war bonus as made by the workmen themselves in the letters, dated July 1946 and 9th August 1946, never mentioned any other amount than those paid to the jute mill workers under the management of Bird/Heilgers & Co., but that after the formation of the Union in the beginning of December 1946 a new orientation was given to this claim, in that the Union in its letters to the Company claimed 72 days' pay as a quantum of this bonus and also asserted that the Company made a promise for the payment of the same to the workmen. The Paper Mills Employees' Union and the Bengal Kagaskal Masdoor Union of Mill No. 2 sent their first letters of demand on 19th December 1946 and 28th December 1946, respectively. These letters appear at pages 20 and 21 in the Paper Book of the Federal Court and marked Exhibits 1 and 2 respectively. The claim as to the deferred war bonus appears as demand No. 1 in each of the letters and are identical in terms. Exhibit 1 is reproduced below.

Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta.

We, the workers of Mill No. 1, beg to lay before you the following demand for immediate fulfilment:—

- (1) Seventy-two days' pay as deferred bonus. This was promised by you during the war. We are surprised to find your own promise remaining unfulfilled so far.
- (2) Dearness allowance. To cope with the cost of living we want Rs. 40 (rupees forty) as dearness allowance instead of "cheap rations" from your Welfare Store.
- (3) Improvement of Mill Gate No. 1. The passage has become a veritable dustbin. We fail to see why this gate also cannot be made like the other gates leading to the mill.

Hoping to be favoured with an early reply.

We remain,

Dear Sir,

Yours faithfully,

For and on behalf of the workers

Ltd., No. 1 Mill.

The Bengal Kagaskal Masdoor Union of Mill No. 2 sent a second letter to the Company on 20th January 1947 reiterating its demands set forth in Exhibit 2, dated 28th December 1946. As admitted by the Company, none of these letters were replied to.

Next comes the stage of the strike notices by the Unions on the Company. These are letters, dated 29th January 1947 (Exhibit 4 at page 23 of the Paper Book), by the Union of Mill No. 1 and letter, dated 17th February 1947 (Exhibit 7 at page 24 of the Paper Book), by the Union of Mill No. 2. By these letters notices are given of launching a strike of the employees unless the demands mentioned therein were fulfilled forthwith. The demand of 72 days' pay as deferred war bonus is one of the demands. There was no reply to these letters either and the strike commenced on 14th March 1947.

The claim of the Union for the deferred war bonus on the plea of a promise, was denied by the Company. The Union examined Mr. Jagadish Chandra Roy and the Company examined O.P.W.1 F.S. Mitchell in regard to statements on the point. Mr. Jagadish Chandra Roy states that when he was fleeing in terror in the last days of the war, the latter was the Manager of the Company. He states that he was not present when the Company made a promise to the Union.

He then states that Mr. Slater ultimately asked the workmen that he had no authority to pay any payment of the bonus and asked to approach the Head Office. The workmen asked Mr. Mitchell, the General Manager of Mills, who promised to try to get it from the Head Office. Mr. Slater retired from service on 30th September 1946 and he is stated that he never heard of the claim deferred war bonus till August 1946 when the workmen's letter dated 9th August, page 18 of the Paper Book. He admits that he was approached by the workmen on the 9th when he was on a visit to the Mill No. 1 in September 1946 and that he told Jagadish that the workers should apply to the Manager and it would be considered by the Head Office.

The learned Advocate for the Union that as the Union set out the story of the by the authorities of the Company from time and yet the Company did not deny having giving out any promise, the should accept the Union's version of the to be true. The Union avers that in any circumstances are such, that it should sidered that expectations were create minds of the workmen that induced the hardships of labour under war condi was further pointed out that the index o of living had risen to near about 220 in 1942. This statement was supported index members of the price of rice and December 1942 as given at page 21 Famine Enquiry Commission Report or where the index number of rice and given respectively as 218 and 232 and the index number of primary commodities is 175.6. The learned Advocate argued should be accepted that the rigorous w threat of aerial bombing could not be u by the workmen unless there was the e of extra remuneration to be received termination of the war.

The learned Advocate for the Un pointed out from the balance sheets that of the Company during the war rose f lakhs in 1938 and 22.66 lakhs in as much as 35 lakhs in 1942, in 1943, 33½ lakhs in 1944, 35½ lakhs and about 50 lakhs in 1946. The Advocate cited the awards in the Imperial Industries (India), Ltd., dispute pub Bombay Labour Gazette, November 1947, the Award in the Metro Theatre, Ltd., dispute reported in the Industrial Court October to December 1948, page 699, an cases reported in Bombay Labour Gazet 1949, page 587, and Bombay Labour June 1949, at page 1185. My other particularly drawn to the Award of Livatia in his Award on the Imperial Industries (India), Ltd. (Bombay Labour November 1947, page 339) on the questic sional bonus for war years 1940-45 (graph 7 at page 353). The learned A observes:—"the general principle which ted upon in the Bombay Industrial Co where the same factor raised the cost during the war also raised the cost employees, a sufficient amount should b allowance to neutralise the r of living although the neutralisation per cent." It is further ch the workmen in that Company suffe by not getting adequate in respect of the rise in and by not getting account of the war years. The Award of the Imperial Industries (India), Ltd.,

In the Award of the Metro Treatre, Ltd., dispute. The Unions claimed the war bonus also on the ground that during period in question the dearness allowance by the Company to the workmen were meagre while the Company earned singly higher profits from year to year.

Company opposed the claim of the deferred bonus both on the ground that no promise such a payment was ever made as well as on ground that the Titaghur Paper Mills employees were getting adequate wages and warances which were much higher than what jute mill workers were getting. The emolus of the jute mill employees in the locality virtually the current wages prevailing in the and as the Titaghur Paper Mill employees getting higher wages than the employees in jute mills and also the benefit of a pension ne not enjoyed by the jute mills employees demand of a war bonus was not worthy of port.

e papers of the mills were produced to show following figures of the total number of work- in the two mills between the period from er 1942 to March 1943 and it was pointed out there was no exodus of workers at the end of or the beginning of 1943 and therefore, the re for making the promise of payment of a to keep back the labour from fleeing did not the story of the promise for payment of the red war bonus as set up by the Unions was assailed as improbable on the ground, that was no such promise regarding the workers of No. 2, as Jagadish's statement relates only to No. 1. Mr. Sclater left India on 30th September 1946. The applications in July and August an when Sclater was the Manager of Mill I do not show the story of any promise. The of the promise was set up for the first time in letters written by the Unions dated 19th December 1946 and 23rd December 1946. The evidence Jagadish Roy clearly shows that Mr. Sclater the workers to apply to the Managing Agents confessed his inability to make any payment he bonus without their permission. The ad Counsel pointed out from these circum- that no payment of payment was really made the circumstances of the case would further that no payment could be made either a authority or the conditions in the Tita- Paper Mills. The remuneration given employees was better than those Paper Mills had a pension scheme since 1937 and in January 1947 the Company introduced the Provident Fund scheme at 5 per cent. contribution on either side which was since increased to 6½ per cent.

From the papers filed before me it appears that the deferred bonus in the jute mills under the Birds/Heilgers group was paid for the period from January 1943 to March 1945 in half-yearly instalments. The bonus granted for the half year ending March 1943 was two weeks' basic pay and the bonus granted in the succeeding half years were as follows:—

Ending September 1943—One week's basic pay.

Ending March 1944—One week's basic pay.

Ending September 1944—Two weeks' basic pay.

Ending March 1945—One week's basic pay.

It, therefore, appears that the jute mill workers under the Managing Agents got the total deferred bonus to the extent of 7 weeks' basic pay during the period in question. The jute mill workers used to get a weekly pay of Rs. 4 during the bonus period; the total bonus, therefore, appears to be Rs. 28. The learned Counsel for the Company pointed out that the Titaghur Paper Mills workers were getting much higher basic pay and dearness allowance than those paid to the jute mills and that in June 1944 the minimum wage of the paper mill workers was Rs. 32 in basic pay and dearness allowance while that paid to workers in the jute mills was about Rs. 28. In succeeding years the difference between the two wages increased. It was further pointed out that A.R.P. allowance paid during the war period in the jute mills and in the Titaghur Paper Mills record a very great advantage in amount, for the paper mill workers. It is pointed out that the jute mills paid A.R.P. allowances only to those directly or indirectly employed in the A.R.P. duties whose number vary between 25 and 50 at each mill and the jute mills also allowed an alert allowance varying from annas 8 to annas 12, per siren sound, to those who returned to work after an alert. In the Titaghur Paper Mills, however, A.R.P. allowances were paid to workers classified as "essential" and not merely to workers employed at A.R.P. work as in the jute mills. The paper industry involves continuous processes and no abrupt cessation of work can be made without serious damage to the plant and materials in the process. The number of essential workers, meaning those who were required to maintain the plant at work, was very considerable, amounting to about one-third of the total labour force. A.R.P. allowances were paid to all these people at the rate of Rs. 6-8 per month throughout the year. The number of people classified as essential workers in 1945 amounted approximately 940 in Mill No. 1 and 900 in Mill No. 2. It is also stated that alert allowances were paid in addition, at the rate of annas 12 per employee to all not classified as essential workers when alerts were sounded. There were 18 alerts during the war. It is stated that the Company paid the following amounts as A.R.P. and alert allowances in the two mills:—

At Mill No. 1—

A.R.P. allowance—Rs. 2,41,000.

Alert allowance—Rs. 23,000.

At mill No. 2—

A.R.P. allowance—Rs. 2,47,000.

Alert allowance—Rs. 19,000.

It is stated that in the Standard Mills with a labour strength of 3,500 a deferred bonus of Rs. 80,000 and an alert allowance of Rs. 25,000 only were paid during the period of the war. It is, therefore, stated that each of the Titaghur Paper Mills which employs about 3,000 workers paid more than double the amount of money paid by a jute mill of about the same strength of labour.

force including the payments on the head of the deferred bonus. It is, therefore, pressed by the learned Counsel that the workers of the Titaghur Paper Mills could not claim the deferred bonus on the analogy of the jute mills under the Managing Agents, because the paper mill workers were paid much better wages and war allowances than those in the jute mills, in addition to the retiring pension and the Provident Fund which were allowed to the paper mill workers but not to the jute mill workers. In this view of the matter it was suggested that the observations of Sir H. B. Divatia in the Award of the Imperial Chemical Industries dispute did not apply to the present case.

From what has been discussed above it appears to me that the plea of the workmen, that a promise was made for the payment of the deferred war bonus, at the rate of one day's pay for every month of the war or at 72 days' pay in total, has not been substantiated. No promise has been proved, far less a promise for payment of 72 days' basic pay. The nature of the claim of the workmen on the point of the deferred war bonus is clearly shown by the letter (Exhibit A) dated July 1948 and the letter dated 9th August 1948 at page 18 of the Paper Book. They show a prayer for payment of the bonus on the lines of the deferred bonus scheme in the jute mills under the Managing Agents and it also appears that the amount of this bonus granted to the jute mills varied from 1½ to 2 months' salary. As a matter of fact it amounted to 7 weeks' basic pay.

Although, however, no promise for the payment of the deferred war bonus has been proved, there can be no doubt that the workmen were agitating for this bonus and making repeated prayers to the authorities for its payment and the conduct of the authorities in regard to this prayer was such as to raise expectations in the minds of the workers to the effect that some payments would be made after the war if they stood by the mills during the strenuous war period. The Report of the Famine Commission shows that the cost of living had already risen in December 1942 and there can be no doubt that by 1945 it was still higher. The balance sheets of the Company show mounting profits from 1938 to 1945. In the circumstances, I consider the observations of Sir H. B. Divatia in the Imperial Chemical Industries dispute reported in Bombay Labour Gazette, November 1947, page 339 and page 352, are appropriate to the present case. I am of opinion that in view of all the circumstances of the case, the workers of the Titaghur Paper Mills should be allowed a deferred war bonus at the rates granted to the jute mills under the Bird/Heilgers & Co., i.e., to the extent of 7 weeks' basic pay, being at 3 weeks' basic pay in 1943, 3 weeks' basic pay in 1944 and 1 week's basic pay in the first quarter of 1945 and it is awarded accordingly. All the workers who were on the rolls at the date of the first reference on 5th May 1947 and worked in the relevant year or period for at least half the number of working days will get the bonus as allowed. In calculating the number of working days the period of leave on full or part of the pay allowed by the Company shall be counted towards duty.

(b) Should bonus be paid for 1945 and 1946?

The Union claims annual bonus "equivalent to one month's pay" for each of the years 1945 and 1946, in view of the fact that the workmen maintained the production of goods on the same scale as that during the period of the war and thus enabled the Company to earn profits to an extent far above the normal pre-war profits.

The Company opposed the claim for bonus for 1945 and 1946 and urged that the Company had not made any profits in these years and that the bonus should not be paid. It was further stated that the Company had incurred heavy losses in these years and that the bonus should not be paid.

been closed and should not be reopened for purpose. At the time of the address, the learned Counsel for the Company raised the objection to the claim of the bonus for 1945 and 1946 at month's basic pay in each year was not made in charter of demands before the reference of the dispute to the Tribunal and there was, therefore, industrial dispute regarding this matter as to be entertained for adjudication by the Tribunal.

The learned Advocate for the Union pointed out that the parties had no misapprehension as to demand and the claim was made before Simpson in May 1947 and that the strike notice dated 29th January 1947 by the Union of No. 1 and dated 17th February 1947 by Union of Mill No. 2 showed the demand as "an bonus equivalent to one month's pay". It is therefore, pressed by the Union that the claim bonus for 1945 and 1946 was made in the notices and that as no objection was raised in written statement of the Company, this matter could not be agitated by the learned Counsel for the Company at this stage of the hearing.

The demands listed in the strike notices of 29th January 1947 and 17th February 1947, the claim of one month's pay as yearly bonus. There can be no doubt that this demand covers the claim for bonus for 1946 which is made in 1947. The financial year of the Company is from 1st April to 31st March of the following year. The demand for bonus in January/February 1947 was made in the financial year ending with 31st March 1947. The claim bonus for 1945 is not very clearly conveyed by demand. The written statement of the Company does not, however, show any objection on point.

In respect of this claim also the Union refers to the Award of Sir H. B. Divatia in the Imperial Chemical Industries dispute reported in Bombay Labour Gazette, November 1947, at page 339 maintained that bonus should depend upon profits of the Company and inasmuch as the Company earned substantially higher profits in 1945 and 1946 compared to the pre-war profits, the workmen should be given the demanded bonus. From the balance sheet of the Company the profits appear to be as follows:—

1932—19½ lacs.
1938—20½ lacs.
1939—about 22½ lacs.
1945—35½ lacs.
1946—about 49½ lacs.

The learned Counsel for the Company contended that the Titaghur Paper Mills never paid a bonus to its workmen and there was no reason to consider that the payment of bonus should be a condition of employment and that in such a case the Company will be saddled with a cumulative burden for the payment of the money for the years all over and also a prospective burden indirectly for payment of a sum by way of bonus for every year in the future. It is also stated that the payment of bonus in any particular year is bound to be a condition of future payments even in case of a recession and it was thus bound to lead to a permanent of labour unrest. The learned Counsel also pointed out that as production was in a pace far higher than normal in the war years the machines had to be repaired and the Company was bound to carry on repairs amounting to a large sum. Papers were produced to show that the cost of these repairs amounting to a large sum was further stated that the profit of the Company was not sufficient to pay a bonus from the profits.

and Company before me that the management was willing to grant a production bonus to the workmen and filed a scheme for award of such bonus on the basis of a production of 30,000 tons of cotton yarn per year for the two mills. The production of the mills with 9 machines as are working at present from the 1st of March 1945 to March 1946 were submitted by the management and it appears that in most of the years the production was above 30,000 tons. The scheme submitted by the Company before me is in Appendix A of this Award and a charter of production as Appendix B. At present there are 9 machines in Mill No. 1 and 4 in Mill No. 2. A new machine has been added to Mill No. 2 which is working condition by March 1950. In 1947 also one of the machines will be replaced by a new machine and it appears that the conditions and alterations in the machineries are intended to raise the production to a much higher level than before. The Union accepted the scheme as satisfactory. They, however, requested me that the production figures of the mills should be open to inspection by the workmen from time to time. From the chart in Appendix B it appears that the production of the mills from April 1945 to March 1946 was 32,071 tons and that from April 1946 to March 1947 was 32,071 tons. According to the scheme put forward by the Company a bonus of 17 days' pay is payable for the production of the year April 1945 to March 1946, and a bonus of 19 days' pay is payable for the production of the year April 1946 to March 1947. No production bonus under the scheme is payable for the years 1947-48 and 1948-49 as the production of these years fell below 30,000 tons.

Titagur Paper Mills never paid any bonus to the workmen. There were no profits in the year 1945 and 1946. However, the urgent need of stepping up production. The scheme of the production bonus submitted by the Company has been accepted by me as satisfactory and for the purpose of awarding I accept the scheme and propose to award bonus according to this scheme for the years 1945-46 and 1946-47. It is, therefore, the order of the Commission that the Company should pay production bonus to the extent of 17 days' basic pay for the year 1945-46 and a bonus of 19 days' basic pay for the year 1946-47. The payments should be made on the basis of the pay of the workmen in the years in which the bonus is payable.

All workers who were on the rolls at the time of the first reference on 5th May 1947 and also those who joined the particular year for at least half the year of working days shall get the bonus. The bonus shall be granted in full or part of the pay according to the number of days counted towards duty.

The issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 21 Profit-sharing bonus.

My share of profit-sharing be introduced? If so, what?

The Commission did not pass this issue in view of the fact that the Government of India has set up an Industrial Disputes Commission to study and report on the conditions of labour and fair wages, capital, and labour matters. This issue, therefore, is not considered and is left open for the consideration of the Government.

Issue No. 22 Bonus for the year 1947-48.

My share of profit-sharing be introduced?

The Commission did not pass this issue in view of the fact that the Government of India has set up an Industrial Disputes Commission to study and report on the conditions of labour and fair wages, capital, and labour matters. This issue, therefore, is not considered and is left open for the consideration of the Government.

Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mill, Serampore, Hooghly and its workmen published in the Calcutta Gazette dated 26th February 1948, and agreed that the principles enunciated in those awards may be followed in determining the availability of the pay during the strike period of this case. The same principles were also enunciated in the earlier Award of Dr. H. G. Waight in the Venesta, Ltd., dispute published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th September 1947. I shall, therefore, briefly state these principles here below.

Under the United States National Labour Relations Act, the striking employees retain their status as employees under that Act (1) when the strike was over a current labour dispute and (2) when it is the result of "unfair labour practice" (vide Labour Disputes and Collective Bargaining by Ludewig Teller, page 754). The same principles are also followed in the Industrial Courts in India. The question is if an Industrial Court would also pay the wages for the strike period although no work was done in that period and the absence was not permitted is a different one. It is an accepted principle that a striker is entitled to the wages for the period of the strike if the strike was both (a) lawful and (b) justified. The awards in a number of disputes discussed in the award of Lipton, Ltd., dispute show that when the strike has been occasioned by the employment of an unfair labour practice by the management or where the employees were willing to submit to arbitration to which the management did not agree, it is open to an Industrial Tribunal to award pay for the strike period, where the strike has been lawful at its inception and continuance.

It is, therefore, to be considered if the strike during the period from 14th March 1947 to 22nd May 1947 in the Titagur Paper Mills was occasioned by the employment of an unfair labour practice by the management. If this question be answered in the affirmative, the strikers will be entitled to wages for the strike period. If this question be answered in the negative, it is to be considered if the strike was to further a current labour practice or otherwise to obtain improved terms of employment. In such a case the strikers will be entitled to the pay for the strike period if there are circumstances to show that the attitude of the Company was so unreasonable as to force the strike on employees and also its continuance, provided the strike had been both lawful and peaceful.

It has been stated above that the strike of the workers of the Titagur Paper Mills commenced on 14th of March 1947 and continued till 22nd May 1947. The Unions in the two mills were formed on 3rd December 1946 and a charter of demands was submitted by the Union of Mill No. 1 on 19th December 1946 and the Union in Mill No. 2 on the 28th December 1946. There was no reply from the Company and a reminder was issued by the Union of Mill No. 2 on 20th January 1947 repeating its demands. The demands up till now were three in number. The Company gave no reply to these letters. On the 29th of January 1947 the Union in Mill No. 2 submitted a fresh list of demands, six in number, with a notice for launching a strike on any day after the 1st of March 1947. A similar notice with a similar list of demands was submitted by the Union of Mill No. 1 on 17th February 1947 with a notice to go on strike unless the demands were satisfied by the 4th of March 1947. There was also no reply to these letters to the Unions by the Company. On the 13th of March the two Unions formed a Joint Strike Committee and informed the Company and the Labour Commissioner that the strike in both the mills was going to happen with effect from the following day. The strike actually happened on 14th of March 1947.

The letters dated 29th January 1947 and 17th February 1947 issued by the Union of Mills Nos. 1 and 2 to the Company show that in the present case the strike had only one object, namely, to obtain improved terms of employment, or in other words, to further a current labour dispute. The threatened strike was not to remedy any unfair labour practice on the part of the employer. In such a case the strikers will not be entitled to pay for the strike period unless there are circumstances to show that the attitude of the Company was so unreasonable as to force strike on employees and also its continuance.

The Labour Commissioner to the Government of undivided Bengal took up the matter for conciliation on the 19th of December 1946 on receipt of the first demands only, three in number, of the Union of Mill No. 1. These demands related to 72 days' pay as deferred bonus, dearness allowance at Rs. 40 per month, and improvement of the Mill Gate No. 1. On the 16th of January 1947 the Company replied to the Labour Commissioner that no promise or undertaking whatsoever was ever made by the Company to pay any deferred bonus, the amount paid as dearness allowance was in accordance with that current in the district and the improvement of Mill Gate No. 1 had already engaged its attention. The Labour Commissioner also received the strike notices and made strenuous efforts to avoid the strike in the interest of production of an essential commodity like paper. The strike notice contained the demands of recognition of the Union, 25 per cent. increase in basic wages, introduction of grade system and yearly bonus equivalent to one month's pay, over and above the claim of deferred bonus and increase in dearness allowance made in the first charter of demands. The Company replied in regard to the demand of a 25 per cent. increase in the basic wages, that in May 1946 a 10 per cent. dearness allowance was consolidated with the pay of the workmen, to which was added a further 15 per cent. for workers drawing up to Rs. 50 per month, 12½ per cent. for those drawing from Rs. 51 to Rs. 75 and a 10 per cent. increase for those drawing above Rs. 75 per month. With regard to the request for introduction of the grading system, the Company stated that a grading system already existed in most departments of the mills. The Company did not make any fresh comments on the question of deferred bonus and dearness allowance and made no comments on the recognition of the Union and yearly bonus. It appears that on 25th February 1947 the Labour Commissioner to the Government of Bengal suggested to the Company for increasing the dearness allowance which was at Rs. 20 per month to Rs. 30 per month and for introducing a profit-sharing scheme similar to the scheme adopted by the Tata. It appears from a note dated 27th February 1947 in the order sheet of the Labour Commissioner's record that Messrs. Mitchell and Offner, two officials of the Company, came to see the Labour Commissioner and they expressed the view that the introduction of a profit-sharing bonus would be dangerous and cause trouble in the mill. They immediately and at the Paper Mill when profits fell and there was no bonus or only a small one. It also appears that they were inclined to take no action and did not think that the strikers or the men wanted to strike or that the Industrial Disputes Act suited them. There is a further note dated 27th February 1947 in the order sheet of the Labour Commissioner's record that if a strike occurred they would be disposed to a proceeding under the Industrial Disputes Act and the Labour Commissioner. They seemed to be nothing at all at that moment. The Labour Commissioner to the Government of Bengal, therefore, after considering the matter which his Director

the Labour Commissioner, therefore, after considering the matter which his Director

Mr. Mitchell proposed in this case. He said that the strike notice came from the Union of Mills No. 1 and that it did not consider the letter of 29th January 1947 to be a notice for strike, although it was a strike notice from the Union of Mills No. 1. His evidence is that the Company did not make any attempt to settle the dispute on receipt of the letters dated 29th January 1947 and 17th February 1947. He said that the Chairman of the Board of Directors, Mr. Mitchell, himself was in contact with the Labour Commissioner in the matter of conciliation. His further evidence is, that he did not have a consideration of the condition of the fact a strike would really occur in either of the months of March. He explains that he thought there was nothing serious and that it would pass off in a day or two. He said that after the strike commenced the Labour Commissioner for him to do what he thought best and that before the Labour Commissioner the Company expressed its willingness to go to adjudication over the dispute under the Industrial Disputes Act.

It has been stated above that the Company was not really willing to submit to a proceeding under the Trade Disputes Act before the strike commenced. The Company was more agreeable to face than a proceeding under the Trade Disputes Act. This will also appear from a note (serial 21) of Mr. Rahman, Assistant Labour Commissioner, in the record of the Labour Commissioner.

This note (serial 21) of Mr. Rahman, Assistant Labour Commissioner, further shows, that after the strike commenced, the Labour Commissioner contacted the Union leaders and invited them to discuss as to how the strike could be brought to an end and the Labour Commissioner mentioned the possibility of starting proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act but that the Union was emphatically against any proceeding under the Industrial Disputes Act. A letter dated 1st March 1947 signed by Messrs. D. B. Bose and K. P. Pyne, Secretaries of the Joint Strike Committee, and addressed to the Labour Commissioner, shows that there was a meeting of the Joint Strike Committee on 27th March 1947 at which an interview of the Secretaries with the Labour Commissioner on 25th March 1947 and that they rejected the idea of adjudication suggested by the Labour Commissioner and the Secretary. He therefore, informed the Labour Commissioner in his letter that they could not accept an arbitration as proposed by him. The resolution of the Joint Strike Committee was to continue the strike as long as the demands remained unsatisfied. This letter is serial 18 of the record of the Labour Commissioner and it appears that a copy of this letter was also addressed to the Hon'ble Minister. The strike, therefore, went on as usual. On the 2nd of April the Secretaries of the Joint Strike Committee addressed a letter (Exhibit 10) to the Hon'ble Minister in charge of Labour, and the Hon'ble Minister was present with him. This interview was held on the 2nd of April towards the end of April. The Hon'ble Minister towards the end of April issued orders were issued by the Hon'ble Minister in reference of the disputes referred to the Industrial Disputes Act. Exhibit 10 is a letter addressed to the Labour Commissioner to the Secretary, informing him that it is the order of the Hon'ble Minister, therefore, the Company and its employees should go to the Industrial Disputes Act.

On the 13th of May 1947 the Commission addressed another letter to the Secretary, Bengal Bagaskal Majdoor Union No. 2, asking him to call off the strike as it was possible in view of the fact that the Union had already been appointed by the Government. This letter is Exhibit 11. By letter No. 12, dated 24th May 1947, the General Secretary of the Bengal Bagaskal Majdoor Union accepted the Tribunal and decided to call off the strike on Friday, the 23rd May 1947.

The Union pressed that the Company was guilty of an unfair labour practice, inasmuch as it refused to bargain with the Union before the commencement of the strike. The Union pointed out that the Company was under an obligation to bargain with the representatives of its workmen and its position became vulnerable when it refused to negotiate on the charter of demands with the Union. The learned Advocate for the Company referred to section 8(5) and 9(a) of the National Labour Relations Act, U.S.A. and pointed out that under the American Statute the employer had an obligation to bargain, there was no such Statute in India and further, the obligation to bargain under the American Statute arose only under the following conditions:—

- When the Union represented a majority of the workers,
- When the Certifying Officer has been satisfied as to the existence of such majority, and
- When the employer has been shown that the Union has in its fold a majority of the workers.

It was contended that unless these conditions were fulfilled, an American employer would come within the mischief of the operation of provisions on unfair labour practice for refusal to bargain with the employees. It was advanced that neither of the Unions represented a majority of the workmen and that the details as to the membership and the office-bearers of the Union were not duly brought to the notice of the Company and the Company was not, therefore, bound to bargain with the Unions in regard to the charter of demands submitted by them. There is no Statute in India requiring the Union to be a majority authorisation before it can be considered as a bargaining unit by the employer. The conciliation machinery of the Labour Director was set in motion when the strike notices were issued to the companies and the Labour Commissioner made some recommendations with a view to settling the disputes. These recommendations were not accepted by the Company and the representatives of the Company gave the Labour Commissioner to understand that in the event of a strike taking place they would rather support the strike but would not like that the strike should be started under the Trade Disputes Act in force. As soon as such a position is taken by the Company, its position becomes vulnerable and the inevitable conclusion is that the Company's conduct was such that it forced the Union upon the employees. As a matter of fact, the Labour Commissioner found itself helpless in any other way to avert the strike. In these circumstances, it is of opinion that it was the Company that was more responsible than the Union for the commencement of the strike. From the evidence it further appears that on March 1947 the Union rejected the offer of conciliation proceedings for adjudication of the strike. If the Union had accepted the offer of having an award under the Trade Disputes Act, the strike could be discontinued within a short time after the 27th of March 1947. Nothing happened after 27th March 1947 to exonerate the Union from the liability of continuance of the strike beyond 27th March 1947. In these circumstances, it is decided that the striking employees are entitled to emoluments for the period of the strike from 14th March 1947 to 27th March 1947 and no more and it is awarded accordingly. The payment for this part of the period of strike should be made on the basis of emoluments received by the individual striking employees immediately before the commencement of the strike.

This issue is answered accordingly.

Date of payment of the amounts allowed under the Award.

In consideration of the fact that the payments awarded hereunder relate to previous years and will mean a considerable sum, it is awarded that each of the amounts allowed in issues Nos. 1(a), 1(b) and (c) respectively, shall be paid in three equal monthly instalments, commencing within a period of two months from the date on which this Award comes into operation.

In conclusion I thank the learned Counsels and Advocates of either party for the able assistance they afforded to me in the adjudication of this complicated dispute.

APPENDIX A.

Issue No. 6: Demand of the Unions for profit-sharing and bonus.

The most complex problem of "Profit-sharing in Indian Industry" was referred by the Central Government to an appointed committee; and the full report of the said committee has not yet been submitted to Government for its consideration. Two of the many major points to be considered by this committee are—

(1) What are those industries which are, by reason of their manufacturing processes, lay-out and general nature, suitable for the initial institution of a system, or systems, of profit-sharing?

(2) It having been decided upon which industries profit-sharing is to be initially imposed, then what is to be the modus operandi?

Thus—

(i) What should be the apportionment of profits, when there are profits, between labour and capital?

(ii) How is the share of each individual employee to be calculated?

(iii) Is the share of labour, i.e., labour's share of profits, to be related in any way to labour's effort? Or directly or indirectly to production?

(iv) Are labour to share in losses as well as profits in any manner?

Many volumes have been written on many people upon this subject, and above are obviously only a few of the many points which have to receive serious consideration. Accordingly the opinion of the Company upon this demand is that the Company would be well advised to either postpone the question or leave it to the discretion of the Tribunal until such time as the Central Government's policy is made quite clear (and we do not doubt that Mr. Banerjee will, having regard to the relative problems which he would have to resolve if he agreed to the principle of profit-sharing, agree to this course). In the most unlikely course of the Tribunal both agreeing to the Union's demands and there and then insisting upon the devising of a profit-sharing scheme for the T.P.M. employees; then the Company are of the definite opinion that any scheme adopted should in some way be linked to production, and thereby indirectly to what might be termed the "contribution of labour" to the common benefit of the employer, the employees and the National Economy. Thus, instead of our people receiving a fixed percentage of ordinary share dividends (when such dividends are paid), we would in preference prefer that they should receive some kind of a scaled bonus, which might admittedly be more appropriately termed a "production bonus" than a "share of profits". As an admittedly rough basis for such a scheme, something on the following lines might, we think, be equitable:—

When the annual production for both mills exceeds—	Then suggested that each worker who worked a "full year" should receive as "bonus".
Tons.	Days' basic pay.
30,000	... 13
30,460	... 14
30,920	... 15
31,380	... 16
31,840	... 17

36,000	... 26

N.B.—(i) 13 days' basic pay—Half of one month's basic pay.

(ii) 26 days' basic pay—One month's basic pay.

Admittedly there are snags in a scheme of this nature; particularly the one that production might suffer because of circumstances outside the control of the workers, but, if profits might similarly suffer, we can be extinguished altogether. Outside economic conditions, raw material availability, seasonal inefficiencies, all have their effect upon production and profit. Nevertheless, even if we say "the more we produce the more we share", our total output certainly has a bearing upon our share, if admittedly in a limited way.

On the other hand, it would certainly be a bonus to the workers.

We should add that the scale outlined might appear to be high (against the workers) compared with our actual outputs during the ten years which varied between a minimum of 25,212 tons in 1925 up to a maximum of 32,111 tons in 1937. But we would argue that a plant extension should give us an annual output of at least 32,300 tons per annum. The said extension includes the installation of a new machine at No. 2 Mill and an extra pulp production at No. 1 Mill.

ANNEXURE.

Matter of an industrial dispute between management of Messrs. India Cycle Manufacturing Company, Limited, 4, Clive Ghat Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the India Cycle Mazdoor Union, 100, Dilkhusa Street, Calcutta, in connection with the question relating to the revision of rates and wages for the strike period from 1st February 1949 to 9th March 1949, both days inclusive.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI,

Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

Company—Sri D. N. Basu, Advocate.

Union—(1) Sri D. Das Gupta, representative, and (2) Sri R. Mukherjee, Secretary.

AWARD.

Government Order No. 2974Lab., dated the 18th June 1949, the above dispute referred to me for adjudication under sections 15 and 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The Union submitted a long charter of demands the points referred by the Government for consideration. Obviously the case of the Union to points other than those referred in the Government order, cannot be considered. Regarding relevant points, the Union's case is that the rates and piece-rates were being systematically reduced by the employers contrary to the provision of the Engineering Tribunal Award. The Union demands that the piece-rate system is to be restored with its respective effect.

The demand is that the wages with dearness allowance should be paid for the strike period from 1st August 1948 to 5th September for which the Company was, according to Union, wholly responsible. Union stated in this connection that the case of lock-out by the employers and not the case of strike.

The Company submitted a written statement that the piece-rates have been revised quite in accordance with the provisions of the Major Engineering Tribunal Award. The revision has not in any way been adversely affecting the Issue No. 1—Revision of piece-rates. Issue No. 2—Wages for the strike period from 1st February to 9th March 1949, both days inclusive.

DECISION.

Issue No. 1—Revision of piece-rates.

The Union complained that Messrs. India Cycle Manufacturing Company, Limited, have revised the piece-rates adversely, which has affected the earnings of the workers. It was contended that this revision is in direct violation of the salutary provision contained in the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal. They further complained that the persons earning higher wages previously, have been hit by the revision of the piece rates, and are now earning much less. The Company, no doubt, has admittedly revised the piece-rates. It is to be seen if the revision has hit the workers adversely. To judge this point, it is necessary to refer to the relevant provisions of the Engineering Tribunal. As regards piece-rates, the Major Engineering Tribunal directed as follows:—

"We therefore direct that each separate Company must revise its piece-rates so as to ensure that the earnings of whole-time piece-rate workers of the Company do not fall below the earnings of a time-rate worker of the same category". So it is clear that the revision of piece-rate per se is not bad, rather the above award made a provision for ensuring that the earning of the piece-rate workers does not fall below the earning of the time-rate workers of the corresponding grade. On comparison of the statements submitted by the employer, it is clear that the present average earning of a piece-rate worker is above the earning of a time-rate worker of the same category. The Union has contended that a particular worker earning a particular sum in the year 1944 is now earning much less. This statement could not at all be substantiated by the Union, though I asked Sri Rajani Mukherjee who represented the case of the Union, to verify the statement from the accounts submitted by the Company. The Company on the other hand, succeeded in proving that the earning of some piece-rate workers in 1949 are much above what they earned in 1943 and 1944. A tabular statement had been filed in support of the contention and the correctness of the statement could not be successfully challenged by the Union, though opportunity was given to verify these with reference to the knats produced by the Company. In my opinion, therefore the revision of piece-rates has not in any way affected any worker nor has it offended the provision, nor violated any terms of the Engineering Tribunal. In my opinion, piece-rate system cannot successfully work without revision from time to time, and this revision is necessary not only in the interest of the industries but in the interest of the workers as well. It helps the industries, as it is the simplest form of wage incentive and the employer gets better outturn and greater production. On the other hand, it benefits the workers as well, for assuming the rates on which the piece-rate worker is engaged is Rs. 2 per hundred pieces of article, and if during the course of a single day a worker turns out 300 pieces of that article, his earning should be Rs. 6 on that particular day exclusive of dearness allowance. With the rise and fall of demand of a particular item or article, the piece-rate is necessary to be revised, for when the demand is less, the rate will fall, and when the demand is high, production is to be accelerated and wage incentives in form of higher pay are called for. The Engineering Tribunal accordingly left it free for each industry to revise its piece-rate, subject to the provision that the minimum earning should not in any case fall below that of a time-rate worker. On considering all the circumstances, I find that this revision of piece-rates was justified and cannot be called into question, as it has not at all adversely affected any worker in any way.

Issue No. 2—Wages for the strike period from 1st February 1949 to 9th March 1949, both days inclusive.

The controversy arose as to what happened between the period from 1st February 1949 to 9th March 1949. According to the Union, it was a case of lock-out and according to the employer, it was a strike. It was contended by Rai Bahadur D. N. Basu who ably conducted the case on behalf of the employer that the Tribunal cannot go behind the order of reference by the Government in which the word "strike" has been distinctly mentioned. Assuming that it is so, the Tribunal nevertheless will have to find if it was at all a case of strike and in discussing this issue the statement of the other party has also to be considered. On reading between the lines of evidence and on hearing arguments from both sides, I am of opinion that it was a case of strike for what happened on the relevant period is narrated below.

Owing to the precarious position created by the import policy of the Central Government under the open general license system, considerable increase in the prices of iron and steel, shortage of other essential raw materials and non-availability of adequate quality of tool and die steel, the Company felt the necessity of affecting some retrenchment of its surplus labour. Accordingly the Company addressed a letter on 14th January 1949 to the Secretary, India Cycle Mazdoor Union, intimating that factory production would have to be suspended if conditions do not improve. In pursuance of this communication, a notice was put up by the Company on 30th January 1949 giving the names of such of the workers who would be retained, while the rest would be discharged as from 1st February 1949 and during this period, i.e., from 1st February 1949 up to 8th March 1949, the factory was kept open all the time. But these retrenched 150 workers who are surplus hands, prohibited the other workers from working under the factory and as such this was a case of deliberate staying out and refused to do any work. So it was clearly a case of strike, and not a case of lock-out.

During the period the factory was not working, the management had been able to dispose of the accumulated stocks in part, and in the meantime the Central Government came to a decision regarding the protection to be given to the industries. In view of the improved position, the management promptly informed the Union that the Company were in a position to employ up to 180 workers immediately. This shows that the Company had no malicious intention to discharge the workers but had temporarily to discharge some due to above circumstances over which they had no control.

In my opinion, therefore, the workers stayed out deliberately and the act was illegal and unauthorised for when the factory was kept open, the workers deliberately did not turn up and went on strike which is unjustifiable in law and equity. So they are not entitled to any pay for the period. However, I find that Mr. I. C. Gupta on behalf of the management agreed to allow 15 days' basic wages to all the workers who had rejoined on 9th March 1949 simply and purely as an "ex-gratia" payment. The mention of this offer is also made by the Union in a letter addressed by Sri Rajani Mukherjee on 8th March 1949 to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal.

Controversy arose here about this payment. It was urged by Sri Rajani Mukherjee that the Company had only paid 15 days' wages for the period which the Union describes as a lock-out period and that the Company is liable to pay wages for the remaining period. I have already found that it was a case of strike and not a case of lock-out, and as such the workers were not entitled to any wages for the period.

as made by the employer is purely "ex-gratia" given as a gesture of good-will to foster the relation between the capital and labour. I, therefore, decide that the Union is not at all entitled to any wages for the relevant period which strike period. I decide this issue accordingly.

SUMMARY.

1. The piece-rate as revised by the Com is justified.
2. Wages for the strike period from 1st February 1949 to 9th March 1949, disallowed.

AWARD.

The Government of West Bengal, Com Labour and Industries Department, Order No. 1008Lab., dated the 1st April 1948, the industrial dispute between the management of the Shree Jute Factory Co., Ltd., North Mill, Bhadrachal, Hooghly, and their workmen as represented by Shamnagar North Mill Employees' Bhadrachal, district Hooghly, and Shree North Jute Workers' Union, Bhadrachal, Hooghly, in connection with the lock-out said mill from the 25th March 1948, and connection with the cases of Somari, Panda and Kishendeo, three workmen said mill, was referred for adjudication Tribunal constituted by Sri S. N. Modak, (Retd.), as Chairman and Sri M. C. Banerji, Sri N. C. Chakravarty, Additional District as members;

Jute Factory Co., Ltd., North Mill, District Haldia, and their workmen, represented by Shannagar North Mill Employees' Union and Shannagar North Jute Workers' Union, in connection with the lock-out in the said mill from the 25th March 1948 and also in connection with the cases of three specified workmen was referred to an industrial Tribunal consisting of Sri N. C. Chakravarty as another member. The Tribunal of three members framed its award and functioned till 18th June 1948 when the stay of proceedings was received from the Calcutta High Court. The High Court subsequently discharged the Rule, but the Company has taken the matter in appeal to the Federal Court. The proceedings continued to remain stayed. In 1949 we received intimation to the effect that the appeal had been dismissed by the Federal Court. Meanwhile the services of Sri N. C. Chakravarty ceased to be available for the purpose of this Tribunal. So we have proceeded with the award.

The facts as presented on the Company's side are brief as follows:—On 23rd March 1948 a badli weaver named Kishendeo who was engaged on a temporary basis to work on loom No. 420 was given a warning card by the departmental overseer on account of his poor production. Kishendeo refused to accept the warning card and took it back on the overseer's desk. The overseer informed him that if he refused to accept the warning card he would be down-graded to "C" grade. Thereupon Kishendeo refused to do his work any further and demanded the wages due to him. An account of wages was actually made up but the worker did not receive his wages. In the meantime another badli weaver was appointed in his place and he went on working during the rest of the day. On the following day, 24th March, Kishendeo appeared at the loom and insisted on being put back on it by ousting the other badli weaver. Kishendeo did not listen to the orders given by the Manager who went up and pointed out that he had done so on the previous day. The Manager, on being informed, went up and asked Kishendeo to leave the loom, and the man eventually complied. A few minutes later however Kishendeo returned and took charge of the loom by ousting the other badli weaver appointed by the management. The Manager visited the place again and tried in vain to get on with Kishendeo and as he apprehended that he removed the driving belt from the loom so that it could not be worked by anyone. The loom was not worked till the mid-day recess began at 12.30 a.m. Kishendeo sat and lay down on the floor during the period. Nearabout the time of the end of work after the recess the Manager informed that a disturbance was brewing in the neighbourhood of loom No. 420. It became evident that a large crowd of workers numbering about 1,500 insisted on seeing Kishendeo re-employed at once. The Manager tried in vain to explain the position. The crowd became violent and started throwing different kinds of stones, whereupon the Manager made his escape. Seeing that the situation was becoming dangerous, the Manager laid an information at the local police station nearby for securing aid for the preservation of peace. The Manager returned with a police party who tried to get Kishendeo to leave the loom and go out to his office. A large crowd of workers however gathered on the Manager and the police party, and were compelled under the menacing circumstances to release Kishendeo for the time being. A number of the crowd of approximately 1,500 members began to throw missiles at the Manager and the police party who, however, managed to escape only after some persons sustained slight injuries. The Manager proceeded in hurriedly proceeding to his office where he barricaded himself. Part of the crowd smashed some of the windows of the room. The factory was at a standstill for about half an hour because of these violent activities indulged in by a large number of workers. The work of the mill proceeded, though in a haphazard manner, for the rest of the day. The Company's case is that Kishendeo, Somari Shaw and Banshi Panda were members of the unlawful assembly and the latter two took part in actual violence. Later in the day the assistance of the armed police was requisitioned by the Manager, and the District Magistrate and other officers came to the place. The management subsequently decided to close the mill from the next day, the 25th March, so that tempers might cool down. The management decided later, in consultation with the Government, to lift the lock-out and to re-open the mill from the morning of the 29th March, subject to the reservation that they declined to re-employ Kishendeo, Somari Shaw and Banshi Panda. It may be stated here that Somari was arrested by the police nearabout the mill office on the evening of the 24th March and Kishendeo and Banshi Panda were arrested during that night. In so far as the management were not prepared to re-employ these three workers, the workers in general declined to rejoin duty on the morning of the 29th March. The order of reference to this Tribunal was made by Government on the 1st April 1948. The management was prepared again to re-open the factory on the 5th April, but the workers declined again to rejoin duty. Eventually the workers rejoined on the 9th April. After police investigation the three men Kishendeo, Somari Shaw and Banshi Panda were sent up for trial by a Magistrate, and they were eventually convicted under section 147, I.P.C., on a charge of rioting and subject to the sentences awarded by the Magistrate being modified the convictions were upheld in appeal by the Sessions Judge.

(1) Written statements were filed by both the Unions mentioned in the order of reference. Shannagar Jute Workers' Union, however, dropped out eventually, and Shannagar North Mill Employees' Union alone took part in the proceedings in the later and important stages. The case put forward by the Employees' Union is in brief as follows:—Kishendeo did not tender any resignation, but was unjustly dealt with on account of alleged poor production. There was no justification for ousting Kishendeo from his post, and the management was wrong in deputing another badli worker to take his place. A trivial incident of disturbance might have taken place on the 24th March but it was wilfully magnified by the management in order to put the workers into trouble. The Manager was not dealing with the workers with consideration in connection with several other matters from before and the workers were not satisfied with the Manager's dealings. Kishendeo, Somari Shaw and Banshi Panda were not members of any unlawful assembly with the object of assaulting the Manager, and the latter two had taken no part in any trivial incident which might have taken place and were totally unaware of the alleged occurrence, and were falsely implicated in the criminal case on account of their trade union activities. The management had no justification for declaring the lock-out or for declining to re-employ the three workers.

(2) On the statements submitted by the parties and in the light of the discussions relating thereto, the following issues were framed:—

ISSUES.

- (1) Was there a strike on 24th March 1948?
- (2) Was there any lock-out of the mill? If so, for what period? Was the lock-out, if any, lawful and/or justified?
- (3) Did the workman Kishendeo resign on 23rd March 1948?
- (4) Did the refusal to employ (1) Somari Shaw (2) Banshi Panda, (3) Kishendeo by the employer's notification dated 28th March 1948

1948 amount to dismissal, discharge or locking out of the workmen? Was any of them discharged, dismissed or locked out on any earlier date?

- (5) Are they or any of them entitled to employment? Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to adjudicate upon this issue?
- (6) Are they or any of them entitled to any compensation for the period of non-employment? If so, on what basis?

3. In the present proceeding we have recorded the evidence of certain witnesses on each side and have admitted certain documentary evidence. The judgments given by the Magistrate and the Sessions Judge in connection with the criminal case against the three specified workers have also been taken in evidence. As it is open to the Tribunal to admit any evidence in any manner which may be thought fit, we have considered certain certified copies of the evidence of some witnesses given before the Magistrate in connection with the criminal case, for what they may be worth. We may now proceed to discuss briefly the different aspects of the evidence available and come to our own findings. From the books and documents made available to us and from the admission made by Kishendeo in his evidence we are satisfied that the standard of production reached by Kishendeo at the relevant time was below the requisite level. Kishendeo has tried to explain the position by alleging that the loom was not in proper order. The departmental overseer has explained that the only defect in the loom was that the shuttle box was a little too tight and this defect was duly rectified. We are unable to accept Kishendeo's proposition that a pinion tooth was bent. In any case we are not prepared to find that the service of the warning card on Kishendeo on the 23rd March was not justified, and it was obviously Kishendeo's duty to accept the warning card and keep clear of indiscipline. Instead of doing that he protested against the service of the warning card in a somewhat insolent manner. The overseer suggested that if he did not accept the warning card he will be down-graded to "C" grade. Thereupon Kishendeo said that he would not work any more and demanded his wages. He did not actually wait to receive the wages and he left his place of work and did not make any further enquiries about his job or his duty. The management took the only course which was left to it to take under the particular circumstances, in so far as another badli worker was requisitioned and employed for the rest of the day. Evidently Kishendeo got the advice of some of his friends and decided to return to his job on the next morning. By his conduct he wanted to demonstrate that he had no idea of relinquishing his service and he desired the management to change their attitude with regard to his employment. We find that Kishendeo relinquished his job on the 23rd March and the management accepted his resignation and made necessary arrangements for carrying on the work, and what Kishendeo intended to do on the 24th was to have the acceptance of his resignation withdrawn. In order to achieve this end he might have proceeded in a reasonable and decent manner, and possibly a proper approach might have produced some result. Kishendeo however took it into his head to handle the matter in a most extraordinary manner which was obviously subversive of all principles of discipline and decorum. After having relinquished his job on the 23rd he appeared at his work on the 24th and tried to oust the substitute worker by force in spite of the protests of the management. The Manager scented trouble and removed Kishendeo from the mill and sent him to his home. The management is not bound to accept Kishendeo's proposition that he should be allowed to work on the 24th.

loom till that hour and then left. Personal held consultations with his friends during recess and violent temper manifested itself the work was resumed at 12-30 p.m. and Kishendeo found his cause being supported by a crowd of workers who were violently incited. The Manager tried to restore discipline but and had to retreat in the face of a violent party. He requisitioned the aid of the police. The party came but found the crowd of workers out of control that Kishendeo could not be admitted in his evidence that the police led when the crowd of workers came up to make riot. It is quite easy to understand the nature of these enquiries was. We are of the opinion that a large crowd of workers threatened to overpower the police party and the Manager and members of the unlawful assembly formed missiles at the Manager and the police party inflicting slight injuries on some persons. As to the complicity of Kishendeo as a member of the unlawful assembly there is no room for doubt. regards Somari Shaw and Banshi Panda, it is that they were not specifically named in the earliest informations given to the police to the Manager. But they were evidently noticed and recognised by some witnesses who gave evidence in the criminal case before the Magistrate. did not think it necessary to record evidence about the incident bearing on the city of Somari Shaw and Banshi Panda in violent activities indulged in by the large of workers. We have got before us the judgment of the Magistrate and of the Sessions Judge stating that both the primary court and the of appeal have found on adequate evidence that Somari, Banshi and Kishendeo were guilty of offence of rioting under section 147, I.P.C. do not see sufficient reason for differing from findings arrived at by the two criminal courts in the light of the evidence which has been adduced before us we feel satisfied that all the three were rightly convicted. In connection with present industrial dispute we come to the fact that they were guilty of grave misconduct, far as they took the law in their own hand were members of an unlawful assembly with common object of assaulting and overpowering the Manager and the police party. We are unable to agree with the Employees' Union contention that the incident was of a trivial nature. There may have been possible exaggeration in the evidence on the side of the management on the whole the incident was of a grave nature and it prevented the Manager from functioning for the time being. We now proceed to deal with the issues one by one in the light of our findings as regards the broad facts.

Issue No. 1.

4. We take up Issue No. 1 relating to the question as to whether there was a strike on March 1948. The earliest notice with regard to the closure of the factory which was posted on 10-12 p.m. on the 24th March did not mention anything about a strike having taken place. notice was to the following effect:—

"By reason of the violence practised on the 23rd March 1948 and the impossibility of no working in the mill the management has decided to close the mill until further notice".

The notice indicates that what was uppermost in the mind of the management soon after the closure of the factory was the violence practised by the workers and the consequent impossibility of working in the mill, and it is significant that the notice was posted by the management and not by the workers. It is noticeable that in none of the notices posted by the management there is reference to any

It seems to us that the idea of a strike in at a much later stage. We have given careful consideration to the question in this issue and have come to the conclusion that the attitude of the management at the time was correct and we have come to the conclusion that there was no strike on 24th March. Let us look at the definition of "strike" in section 2(g) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It means a cessation of work by a body of employed in any industry acting in combination or a concerted refusal or a refusal to accept employment." In the present case there can be no question of a refusal to continue work. The question is whether there was a cessation of work by a body of workers acting in combination. There was undoubtedly a cessation of work by a body of workers for about half an hour about 12-30 p.m. on the 24th March. The crucial question, however, is whether a body of workers can be said to have been acting in combination within the meaning of section 2(g). In our opinion the words "acting in combination" mean that the body of persons must be shown to be acting in combination with their psychology directed to a particular end, namely, the cessation of work. In our opinion it will not do merely to show that a body of persons was acting conjointly with a certain object the fulfilment of which would have the direct effect of bringing about a cessation of work and it must be shown that the cessation of work is the direct common object of the body of persons acting in combination. For instance, if a mill is on fire, the body of workers would be required to run simultaneously for safety and leave the mill thus bringing about a cessation of work. Such circumstances the body of workers may be said to be acting in combination in so far as they would be acting conjointly and simultaneously more or less for the same purpose. But a cessation would not amount to a strike, for the simple reason that the object of the body of workers under such circumstances would not involve the purpose of bringing about a cessation of work although the purpose actually pursued would have the indirect effect of causing a cessation of work. In this particular case there was no fire in the mill, there was a civil commotion, and the body of workers involved was actuated by a common object of ousting and overpowering the Manager and the mill party by the use of force, and the body of workers cannot certainly be said to have entertained any direct idea of bringing about a cessation of work. All that happened was that the pursuit of their object actually entertained had the indirect effect of causing a cessation of work. We come to the final conclusion that there was no strike on 24th March 1948.

Issue No. 2.

We now pass on to Issue No. 2 relating to the subject of lock-out. The first question is whether there was any lock-out of the mill, and if so, what period. There was admittedly a lock-out of the mill with effect from the morning of 25th March 1948. On 25th March the Manager issued a notice to the effect that the mill would be closed for work on 25th March, the 29th March, at which time the management intended that the management should not be prepared to re-employ the three workers Sonari Shaw, Kishendoo and Banshi Panda. The authorities of the mill on the morning of 25th March asked the employees to resume work. But the three workers refused to enter and work and did not resume work. On 29th March the management announced a further lock-out of the mill. The requests of the three workers for an opportunity was given to all employees to resume work this morning at 6 a.m., 29th March 1948. By agreement with the West Bengal Government, the three persons mentioned in the previous notice are not to be re-engaged..... As the employees did not resume work, this mill will remain closed until the full complement of the employees ask for work to be resumed. The workers (Sonari Shaw, Kishendoo and Banshi Panda) will not be reinstated." This notice indicates that the Company was prepared to lift the lock-out on the morning of the 29th March and all the workers except the three specified workers were invited to resume duty. It was the workers who refused to resume work, whatever might be the reason of their unwillingness to do so. The circumstances make it clear that it was a concerted refusal on the part of the employees to continue to work or to accept employment within the meaning of the definition of a strike under section 2(g) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The order of reference to this Tribunal was made by Government on the 1st April. The Company appears to have been ready to allow the workers to resume their work at any time, but evidently the workers, acting under the advice of the Union leaders, were not prepared to resume work even after the order of reference was made. In addition to the factor of unwillingness of the workers to resume work on account of the refusal of the mill authorities to re-employ the three specified workers, there was another aspect which appears to have come into operation, in so far as the Union Secretary has explained in his evidence that he was seeking a certain clarification of a Government letter in connection with the order of reference and such clarification was not forthcoming, and he had presumably advised the workers not to resume their work in spite of the position that the Company had definitely announced its intention of lifting the lock-out and was maintaining a continuous invitation to the workers to resume work. The Company announced another notice on the 4th April inviting the workers to resume their work on the morning of the 5th April. Even then the workers failed to resume work on 5th April and the deadlock continued. Eventually in pursuance of still another notice given on the 8th April the workers resumed work on the morning of the 9th April. Under these circumstances we are unable to hold that the lock-out declared by the Company with effect from the morning of the 25th March was continuing beyond the 28th March. We have come to the conclusion that the lock-out ended at 6 a.m. on the 29th March 1948 from which hour a strike began, irrespective of the question as to what the reasons of the concerted refusal of the employees to continue to work or to accept employment might be.

(1) The next question is whether the lock-out from the 25th till the 28th March 1948 was lawful. It is a patent fact that the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal was sitting at that time and the lock-out was declared by the Company during the pendency of the proceedings before that Tribunal. We hold, therefore, that by virtue of the provisions of section 23 and section 24 of the Industrial Disputes Act this lock-out was illegal. The illegality of the lock-out is not cured under the provisions of section 24(3) of the Act in so far as we have found that there was no strike, far less an illegal strike, in consequence of which the lock-out may be said to have been declared.

(2) The next question is whether the lock-out was justified. An illegal lock-out cannot be said to be justified in the fullest sense. In measuring the degree of gravity of the illegality of the lock-out, however, the surrounding circumstances may be taken into consideration for the purpose of finding out whether some sort of justification may be found by way of some sort of justification. The illegality is not cured even though we may find some justifying circumstances. In the light of our findings in respect of the incidents of violence and disturbance in the factory on the 24th March 1948, in paragraph 3 above, we are prepared to say that there were certain justifying circumstances in support of the declaration of lock-out, but we would not say that it was impossible to meet the situation in any other way. In the result the position is that the lock-out was illegal in spite of the existence of some justifying circumstances.

Issue No. 2.

6. We next take up Issue No. 3, the question being whether the workman Kishendoo resigned on the 23rd March 1948. We have already found in paragraph 3 above that Kishendoo relinquished his job on the 23rd March and the management accepted his resignation and made necessary arrangements for carrying on the work, and what Kishendoo intended to do on the 24th was to have the acceptance of his resignation withdrawn, and he handled the matter in a most extraordinary manner which was obviously subversive of all principles of discipline and decorum. We repeat the finding that Kishendoo resigned on the 23rd March 1948.

Issue No. 4.

7. The next issue, viz., Issue No. 4, raises the question as to whether the refusal to employ Somari, Banashi and Kishendoo by the employer's notification dated the 28th March 1948 amounted to dismissal, discharge or locking out of the workmen. In so far as we have found that Kishendoo resigned his post on the 23rd March and such resignation had been accepted by the employer, no question of dismissal, discharge or locking out arises in his case. We find, in the light of the facts and circumstances, that Somari Shaw and Banashi Panda were locked out along with other employees from the 25th March 1948, and by the notification dated 28th March 1948 both of them were discharged with effect from the 29th March 1948.

Issue No. 5.

8. We now proceed to Issue No. 5, the question being whether these three specified workers are entitled to employment. Inasmuch as Kishendoo resigned his post and such resignation was duly accepted by the employer and the employee's subsequent conduct could not induce the employer to withdraw the acceptance of the resignation, there can be no question of Kishendoo being entitled to employment. We have already found in paragraph 3 above that Somari and Banashi were guilty of grave misconduct. The employer, under the particular circumstances, decided to discharge them on account of this grave misconduct, after the termination of the lock-out. We do not find in these circumstances that Somari and Banashi are entitled to employment. As regards the other question in Issue No. 5 regarding the Tribunal's jurisdiction to adjudicate upon this issue, the Federal Court's judgment is quite clear in holding that this Tribunal has the jurisdiction.

Issue No. 6.

9. Issue No. 6 raises the question as to whether any of the three specified workers is entitled to any compensation for the period of non-employment. We answer this question in the negative in view of the fact that they were guilty of grave misconduct.

Issue No. 7.

10. The next issue, viz., Issue No. 7, raises the question as to whether the workers are entitled to wages and amenity allowance for the period from the 25th March to the 28th March 1948 or any part of it. We have already found under Issue No. 2 that the lock-out lasted the 25th March to the 28th March 1948, and was an illegal lock-out. The workmen in general are entitled to wages and amenity allowance for the period of the lock-out from the 25th March to the 28th March 1948, subject to reservation that Somari Shaw, Banashi Panda and Kishendoo are not entitled owing to the fact which we have already discussed. It appears under ordinary circumstances Thursday, the 26th March, would be a full working day, the 27th March, would be a paid holiday, day, the 27th March, would be a day with working hours and there would be no working hours on Sunday, the 28th March. We find that wages and amenity allowance shall be payable to the workmen in general, except the three workers named above, on the basis of full working hours on the 25th March, a full paid holiday on the 26th March, and the usual shorter working hours on Saturday, the 27th March, and payment to the respective workmen shall be made within two weeks from the date of publication of this award.

Issue No. 8.

11. We come now to the last issue, viz., Issue No. 8, the question being whether the workmen in general are entitled to wages and amenity allowance for the period from the 25th March to the 28th March 1948 or any part of it. We have already found under Issue No. 2 that the lock-out lasted the 25th March to the 28th March 1948, and was an illegal lock-out. The workmen in general are entitled to wages and amenity allowance for the period of the lock-out from the 25th March to the 28th March 1948, subject to reservation that Somari Shaw, Banashi Panda and Kishendoo are not entitled owing to the fact which we have already discussed. It appears under ordinary circumstances Thursday, the 26th March, would be a full working day, the 27th March, would be a paid holiday, day, the 27th March, would be a day with working hours and there would be no working hours on Sunday, the 28th March. We find that wages and amenity allowance shall be payable to the workmen in general, except the three workers named above, on the basis of full working hours on the 25th March, a full paid holiday on the 26th March, and the usual shorter working hours on Saturday, the 27th March, and payment to the respective workmen shall be made within two weeks from the date of publication of this award.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of reference No. 4342Lab. of the 25th August 1949, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, in the matter of an industrial dispute between the management of Messrs. Bathgate and Co. Limited, 17, Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and Mr. David James of 40/A, Bondel Road, Calcutta.

For the Management: Sri A. DAS GUPTA, Judge.

For the Employees: Mr. P. R. Dasgupta.

For the Government: Sri A. K. Datta, Minister.

AWARD.

The award of the Industrial Disputes Tribunal, Calcutta, is hereby published in the Gazette. It was taken over by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, on the 25th November 1949.

Bro. in 1945, and in 1946 the Company entered under the Indian Companies Act. David James had been a shop assistant in the firm for over 30 years. He completed 61 years of his age on the 19th November 1949. His services were terminated with effect from 1st October 1948 with three months' salary. The law generally give one month's notice or one month's salary in lieu thereof to an employee who is discharged. This special consideration was given to Mr. David James in view of his old age. David James claims to have been quite fit and pleads that he was wrongfully discharged, and is entitled to suitable gratuity or compensation. Before the Tribunal he was represented by himself and a pleader. Although there is a Union of employees of Messrs. Bathgate & Co., Ltd., although Mr. David James is a member of the Union, he was not represented by the Union. The dispute arose after the discharge of David James. The dispute is between the Company and Mr. David James. A discharged workman may be a "workman" for the purposes of proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, if he is engaged during that dispute. So far as the question in question is concerned, it is doubtful whether it can be said to have been between an employer and a workman within the meaning of the Act. There were some legal difficulties which were not easy for Mr. David James to overcome. At the same time it was undoubtedly a hard case for an employee who has been discharged for misconduct with very insignificant compensation. The case was heard at the Tribunal and evidence both oral and documentary was admitted. I represented the legal difficulties and the hardship to the parties and after conclusion of the arguments on both sides, the parties arrived at an amicable settlement. The Company agreed to pay Mr. David James additional two months' salary and Mr. David James agreed, in return, to withdraw his claim on receipt thereof. On 5th November 1949 the payment was made which Mr. David James granted a stamped receipt to the Company. My award therefore is that there is at present no industrial dispute between the Company and Mr. David James.

A. DAS GUPTA, Judge,
Industrial Tribunal.

This practice is irregular and is in contravention of the provisions of rule 769 of the Central Government Compilation of Treasury Rules, Volume I, or of S. Such Government servants must start subscribing in anticipation of allotment of their Provident Fund account numbers by this office. To accelerate the assignment of account numbers they should simultaneously forward to this office through the heads of their offices applications (in duplicate) for admission to the General Provident Fund in Form No. G.P.F.3 supplemented by a nomination drawn up in such of the revised nomination forms Nos. G.P.F. 9B, 9C, 9D, and 9E as may be applicable to individual cases.

For the purpose of secondary check of the amount of minimum subscription the monthly pay and/or leave salary of every individual subscriber should invariably be noted in the relevant column of the fund schedule meant for such purpose.

If compulsory subscription be not realised from any Government servant for any month for some reason or other, the arrears should be recovered in addition to the normal subscription from the next pay bill and a suitable note to that effect entered in the remark column of the schedule.

Explanation.—At a general election under clause (b) or (d) of section 2, a qualified voter of the Electoral Roll of any of the three constituencies will be entitled to vote for such number of candidates as have been notified under section 8, giving each candidate one vote.

(e) The qualified elector shall sign furnishing full particulars the date of declaration printed on the identification envelope received with the voting paper, place the voting paper in that envelope, close it and deliver it personally to or send it singly by post to reach the Returning Officer on or before the latest day and time fixed by him for the return of voting papers with the relative identification envelope

(f) No voting paper will be accepted unless it is enclosed in the identification envelope supplied with it, and any defect, or any incompleteness in the particulars required on the envelope or its receipt after the latest day and time fixed for its return with the proper voting paper shall invalidate both the envelope and the voting paper enclosed.

(4) Every voting paper in respect of which any requirement of the rules has not been complied with or on which mark is placed in any manner as to make it doubtful to which candidate the vote is given or which the elector has placed any mark whereby he may be afterwards identified or on which an alteration or erasure occurs indicating a change of or which is not received by the Returning Officer on or before the latest date and time fixed for the return of voting papers shall be invalid.

Counting of votes and declaration and publication of results of election

18. (1) On receiving the identification envelopes the Returning Officer shall divide them into separate batches according to the different electorates concerned and shall examine the envelopes in each batch separately regarding the completeness or otherwise of the particulars required to be entered thereon, and shall record his decision "rejected" on any identification envelopes which are incomplete in any requisite entry, mark thereon incompleteness of entry and place them in safe custody for inspection at counting of votes. The distinction of divided batches and sets shall be maintained throughout the entire process of counting of votes.

(2) The Returning Officer shall place the identification envelopes which are complete in requisite entries which he provisionally accepts as containing valid voting papers without opening them in a separate ballot box in each electorate.

19. (1) The Returning Officer shall attend for the purpose of counting the votes on such date or dates and at such time and place as may be appointed by him under rule 22.

(2) Every candidate may be present in person or may send one representative, duly authorised by him in writing, to watch the process of counting.

(3) The Returning Officer shall show all identification envelopes which are accepted or rejected to the candidates or their representatives for examination of the propriety of their acceptance or rejection, and dispose of any objection taken to his decision in the manner prescribed in sub-rule (4).

(4) The accepted identification envelopes in sets where so divided under sub-rule (1) will then be opened in the presence of the candidates or their representatives appearing under sub-rule (2) and the voting papers will be separated from their covers which will be kept aside from view and the Returning Officer will thereupon proceed to examine the voting papers to see whether they have been filled up correctly in respect of every requisite particular. He shall record his decision "rejected" on every voting paper which is found to be defective in any respect and indicate thereon reference to rule 17 the ground of rejection very briefly. The remaining voting papers will be deemed as accepted. Each convenient batch of voting papers, whether accepted or rejected, will be presented in separate bundles where so divided to the candidates or their representatives present for examination of the Returning Officer's decision.

(5) If any objection is taken to his decision of acceptance or rejection of any identification envelopes or voting papers, such objection shall be decided at once by the Returning Officer, whose decision shall, subject to the provision of rules 43 and 44, be final.

(6) The Returning Officer shall separate or cause to be separated accepted voting papers from those that have been rejected and keep them in separate bundles. The identification envelopes originally rejected or those provisionally accepted when separated from their enclosed shall also be kept in separate bundles. All these bundles of voting papers and identification envelopes will be placed in safe custody for disposal under rule 21.

(7) When the counting of the votes of each electorate has been completed by the conduct of the operation on one or more days as necessary, the Returning Officer shall, subject to the provisions of section 2, and of the relevant portion of this rule, forthwith declare the duly qualified candidates, as the case may be, to whom the largest number of valid votes has been given, to be elected.

When an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates, the addition of a vote will entitle any of the said candidates to be elected; the determination of the person or persons to whom such additional vote shall be deemed to have been given shall be made by ballot to be drawn in the presence of the Returning Officer and in such manner as he may determine.

When a seat of a particular electorate becomes vacant by the refusal of an elected candidate to serve, such refusal being signified before his election is published in the Calcutta Gazette under rule 23, the seat may be filled by that one among the other candidates willing to accept office who received the highest number of votes among unsuccessful candidates of the electorate affected at the election. If there is no unsuccessful candidate in the electorate, an election shall be held to fill the vacancy thus created.

The Returning Officer shall determine which candidate should be declared as elected under this sub-rule and announce the results as soon as possible after the counting of votes.

A declaration in this case may be made either in the presence of the electors or their representatives if present or merely by notification in the Calcutta Gazette under rule 23.

The Returning Officer shall immediately report the results of the election to the President. Should the election fail to secure members with requisite qualifications required by section 2 in any case, the defect in the election of each electorate should at the same time be reported for the information of the President along with any defect in the number of candidates entered for election and the want of candidates willing to accept office in circumstances contemplated in paragraph 1 of sub-rule (5).

Contribution from the Commissioners of the English Bazar Municipality for a loan of Rs. 30,700.

[illegible]

In addition to the details required ante clear information should be given below following heads:—

- (a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the municipality has taken or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.

(a) The loan is required for replacement of pipe lines of the Municipal Water Works which has a separate fund, viz., Water which has a credit balance of Rs. 5,941 as on 31st March 1949, of the fund cannot be spent for any other purpose. The Water is solvent. The same will be more solvent as the valuation of being revised after five years to take effect from 1st April 1950. This has already been taken up. It is confidently expected the under this head will increase by at least 100 per cent. The column 20 ante is practically an accident as is evident from reasons:—(i) An amount of Rs. 9,800 realisable in 1948-49 as was not realised in the year but the Ijardar was granted time for 1949-50; (ii) sudden fall in collection of rates during 1948-49 intervention by Government resulting in supersession. The after revaluation as stated above is sufficient (as will be evident from ment below) to meet the ordinary water supply establishment charges for running the softening plant, the instalment of the loan for softening plant and the charges for the proposed loan for pipe lines.

RECEIPTS.	Rs.	EXPENDITURE.
Present current demand of water rate at 4½ per cent.	15,517	(d) Average direct charges in Depreciation Fund.

Surplus

- (b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the municipality. The rates at which each of the taxes mentioned in column 12 ante are levied, other than tax on persons, should be stated here.

(b) Existing rates and taxes—

- (a) Holding rate at 7½ per cent. on the annual value
 (b) Conservancy rate at 7 per cent. on the annual value
 * (c) Water rate at 4½ per cent. on annual value of h 500 feet from the storage tank.

 (f) Tax on professions and trades and callings, etc Schedule IV of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, w 1st October 1948 which can fetch Rs. 6,000 during the same is likely to increase more after revaluation already taken up.
 (g) Besides the above there are now many new holding pation which will increase revenue by Rs. 3,000.
 (A) If the revised valuation can be given effect from 1st the income may be increased by Rs. 4,000 at least water rate.

matter of an industrial dispute between the Associated Electrical Industries Manufacturing Ltd., and their workmen represented by Associated Electrical Industries Employ-Union.

AWARD.

Government of West Bengal, Labour Department No. 4863Lab., dated the 23rd September, 1949, this industrial dispute between the Electrical Industries Manufacturing Co., of 1, Taratola Road, Garden Reach, post Garden Reach, 24-Parganas, and their work represented by the Associated Electrical Employees' Union of 1/1, Harimohan Road, C/o Fatehpur Congress Committee, Reach, has been referred to me as an Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. Disputes in of certain general matters appear to have adjudicated upon by the Engineering Industrial Tribunal which gave its award in 1948. The Electrical Industries Manufacturing Co. is an engineering concern for the manufacture of electric motors, electric transformers, and it employs about 500 employees. In July 1949 a large number of employees put a demand for bonus to the extent of basic and dearness allowance for three months. The company did not respond to this demand, and efforts at conciliation failed. The demand regarding bonus has, therefore, been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. On the statements submitted by the parties, and in the light of the order of reference the only issues for consideration in the present proceedings are that of "Bonus".

Although in its written statement the Union ward a demand for bonus to the extent of ages and dearness allowance for three the demand was reduced during the hear-a bonus for the year 1948 to the extent of ages for one month. In course of the hear-learned lawyer for the Union put forward and for bonus on behalf of the workers respective of the question as to whether the Company derived any profit or not during the year 1948. It seems to me to be an untenable proposition. It has been consistently held in all awards given by Industrial Tribunals in West Bengal, and probably in other provinces in India, that a demand for bonus can be supported only when the employer is shown to have derived substantial profits during the relevant year. If a particular employer is shown to have made huge profits, the case of the employees becomes stronger. If in addition to the factor of the employer having derived substantial profits in a particular period, it is found that the standards of emoluments paid to the employees are below the normal level the case of the employees becomes still stronger. These are the principles which we must bear in mind in approaching an issue of bonus. In the present case the Company has contended that it is unable to pay any bonus for the year 1948 in so far as it never paid any bonus to any of its employees on any previous occasion and it suffered heavy losses not only in 1948 but also in 1947 and it continues to incur losses during the current year. The fundamental question is whether the Company derived any substantial profits in 1948 and whether the trend of things indicates prospects of making substantial profits at the present time. The Company has submitted its balance sheets as at 31st March 1947, as at 31st March 1948 and as at 31st December 1948 and has also submitted a confidential statement relating to the profits and losses during the last few years. The learned lawyer for the Union was given the fullest opportunity of examining these documents. In the absence of any circumstances to the contrary I find myself unable to brush aside these documents as undependable, as was contended on behalf of the Union. It appears that the working year of the Company which used to run from April to March was changed at the end of March 1948 and the calendar year was thenceforward adopted as the working year, and consequently the relevant period with which we are concerned in considering the subject of bonus would consist of nine months from April to December 1948. It appears from the papers submitted by the Company that during this relevant period and also in the preceding period and the succeeding period up to the date of reference the Company has been incurring losses, and there can be no question of its having derived any profits at all during 1948, not to speak of any substantial profits. It further appears from an examination of the scales of basic wages and dearness allowance being paid by the Company to its various employees, both manual and clerical, that the Company is maintaining standards of emoluments which compare favourably with those which were awarded by the Engineering Industry Tribunal in 1948. I can hardly think, therefore, that any case for an award for bonus has been made out in the particular circumstances. My attention has been drawn by the learned pleader for the Union to three awards relating to bonus, namely, (i) an award of Sri P. K. Sarkar in the matter of an industrial dispute between M/S. Burn & Co., Ltd. Howrah Iron Works and their workmen as per order No. 4754 Lab., dated the 22nd December 1948, (ii) an award of Sri P. K. Sarkar in the matter of an industrial dispute between M/S. Jessop & Co., Ltd. and their workmen as per order No. 4431 Lab., dated the 4th December 1948, and (iii) an award of Sri P. R. Mukherjee in the matter of an industrial dispute between M/S. Saxby and Farmer (India), Ltd., and their workmen as per order No. 656 Lab., dated the 16th February 1949. I have closely perused these awards, and I find that the circumstances prevailing in those three cases were widely different from those with which we are confronted in the present case. It cannot escape anybody's notice that in each of these awards the tribunal found that the employer derived substantial profits and was in a position to pay the bonus awarded.

In the case of M/S. Burn & Co., the Company was actually paying bonus to certain categories of employees for several years, but was withholding the same from the factory staff, and the learned adjudicator held that such discrimination could not be supported, and the Company's advocate was clear in stating that he was not raising any question of financial stringency or any contention to the effect that the Company was unable to pay bonus to the factory staff on account of its financial position or the state of profits during the relevant year. It is perfectly clear that the circumstances in our present case are entirely different. Coming to the case of M/S. Jessop & Co., it appears that the Company actually paid a bonus for the preceding year, and on an examination of the profits earned in the relevant period the learned adjudicator came to the conclusion that the Company had earned substantial profits and was able to pay bonus out of the profits earned. Here again, it must be quite plain that the circumstances were entirely different. Looking into the case of Saxby and Farmer (India), Ltd., I find that the Company actually paid bonus for the preceding year, and so far as the relevant year was concerned bonus was paid to the clerical staff to the exclusion of other workers, and the learned adjudicator opined that this discrimination was an unfair labour practice and it was held that the Company had derived good profits during the relevant year. I need not repeat that the circumstances in this last case also were entirely different from those which are in existence in our present case. In the present case this Company did not pay any bonus on any previous occasion, the standards of emoluments being paid by the Company to its employees cannot be said to be below the normal level and the Company has been incurring substantial losses for some time past, and did not derive any profits at all during the relevant year 1948. I come to the conclusion, therefore, that no case for an award of bonus has been made out. The claim for bonus is accordingly rejected. I would however leave it to the discretion of the Company to consider if it would decide to grant a bonus for the maintenance of industrial peace.

Government of West Bengal, Finance Department, letter No. 1581F., dated 2nd December 1949.

Subject:—Procedure for realisation and payment of rent compensation in respect of requisitioned properties.

No. TM/989.—1st December 1949.—In continuation of this office notification No. TM/809, dated the 24th October 1949, published at page 1918 of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 3rd November 1949, a copy of the Government of West Bengal, Land and Land Revenue Department, Requisition Branch, letter No. 9938 (14)-Reqn./C-11/49, dated the 21st November 1949, on the subject noted above, is circulated herewith for the information and guidance of all concerned.

Copy of letter No. 9938(14)-Reqn./C-11/49, dated the 21st November 1949, from the Assistant Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Land and Land Revenue Department, Requisition Branch.

Subject:—Procedure for realisation and payment of rent compensation in respect of requisitioned properties.

In continuation of this department memorandum No. 3643(14)-Reqn., dated the 6th May 1949, the undersigned is directed to say that it has been decided that where a requisitioned house has been allotted to a department and not to a Government servant or private individual, the rent compensation and other charges in respect of the house should be met from the budget of the department concerned. This will hold good also in cases where houses allotted in the first instance to any department are subsequently re-allotted by such department to their officers for residential purposes.

The responsibility for the recovery of the charges in question in such cases will rest solely with the department concerned.

Subject:—Procedure for payment of compensation for land acquired by Land Acquisition Officers.

No. T.F./1540.—1st December 1949.—Several cases have come to notice in which lump sum advances drawn by Land Acquisition Officers for local payment of compensation for land acquired by them have been debited in the List of Payments to the final head of account to which the cost of acquisition of land for the project is debitable, instead of to the head "P—Deposits and Advances—Advances Recoverable" to which such advances are initially debitable in terms of Article 36 of Account Code, Volume I. Bills for such advances should be prominently marked in red ink as debitable to the head "P—Deposits and Advances—Advances Recoverable—T. F. Advance" before being presented at the treasury for payment. The Treasury Officers should also exhibit such sums in the List of Payments under the head mentioned above. After disbursement of the amounts to the awardees by the Land Acquisition Collectors, the latter should forward the payees' receipts in Form C. C. to the Treasury Officer who, on receipt of these acquittance rolls, makes necessary transfer adjustment in the treasury accounts by crediting the amount of the acquittance roll to the head "P—Deposits and Advances—Advances Recoverable—T. F. Advance" and by debiting the head of account to which the cost of acquisition of land for the project is debitable, and then transmit the payees' receipts to this office in support of the charge under the latter head along with the monthly accounts. The payees' receipts should be no account be forwarded, direct to this office from the Land Acquisition Collectors, instead of to the Treasury Officer concerned.

INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT: SRI MATISH CHANDRA BANERJI,
District Judge, Tribunal.

Industrial Dispute between Messrs. Allen Berry & Co., Ltd., and their workmen represented by the Allen Berry (Hazra Road) Masdoor Congress and Allen Berry & Co. (Sodepur) Masdoor Union.

AWARD.

Messrs. Allen Berry & Co. is a firm of automobile engineers with its Head Office and main workshop at No. 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta. It has a show room at Park Street, Calcutta. The Company was originally owned by Europeans but was purchased by Messrs. Dalmia Jain about 25 years ago. The Company purchased a considerable stock of military automobiles, trucks and trucks from the Disposal Department of the Government of India. Reconditioning of old military vehicles and selling them in the market to carry the chief business of the Company. At its workshop at Hazra Road, Calcutta, the Company undertakes repairs of motor vehicles, supplies parts of automobiles and sale of new cars imported from abroad. There are about 1,200 workmen in the Hazra Road Workshop, and about 550 workmen in the show room at Park Street.

The Company has a depot at Sodepur, a distance of about 10 miles from Calcutta. The depot is a huge store of old military trucks and the work consists of repairs and repair of these trucks and supply of parts. There are about 550 workmen in the depot.

The workmen of the Company are styled as the Allen Berry Masdoor Congress in Calcutta and under the Trade Disputes Act, 1947, Sodepur Masdoor Union, Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and Allen Berry & Co. (Sodepur) Masdoor Union, Sodepur, 24-Parganas.

Both the Unions submitted charters of demands to the Government for improvement of the conditions of labour and of the relations between the Company and the Unions, for consideration by the Government of West Bengal, to Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., District Judge, as the Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act. The dispute between the Company and the workmen at Hazra Road Workshop, Calcutta, 1949, and that between the Company and the workmen at Sodepur Depot by Government Order No. 3827Lab., dated 14th August 1949, and that between the Company and the workmen at Sodepur Depot by Government Order No. 6229Lab., dated 7th December 1949, which were published in the Calcutta Gazette on 15th June 1949 in the case of the dispute of Hazra Road workmen and on 8th July 1949 in the case of the dispute of Sodepur workmen.

Both the Awards were made operative for a period of one year with effect from 1st June 1949.

On the expiry of the period of the Award the Unions submitted fresh charter of demands to the Company, very nearly on the same lines as those in the original demands. Both the Unions complained that the Awards of the Adjudicator fell short of their expectations and could not do full justice to their claims. Disputes, therefore, arose between both the Unions and the Company and these disputes were referred for a fresh adjudication.

The Government of West Bengal in the month of Labour by Order No. 3050Lab., dated 21st June 1949, referred, under section 7 and 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the dispute between Messrs. Allen Berry & Co., Ltd., 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, relating to their works at 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and their show room at Park Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Allen Berry Masdoor Congress, Deodar Street, Calcutta, to me for adjudication. This case was recorded before me as Case No. 42/49 and will be referred to as Case No. 42/49.

The Government of West Bengal in the month of Labour by Order No. 3827Lab., dated 14th August 1949, referred, under sections 7 and 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the dispute between Messrs. Allen Berry & Co., Ltd., 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, relating to their works at 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Allen Berry & Co. (Sodepur) Masdoor Union, Sodepur, 24-Parganas, to me for adjudication. This case was recorded as Case No. VIII-51 and will be referred to as Case No. 51.

Notices were issued to both parties in the cases and the parties filed written statements. Both the Unions demanded better conditions of service and stated that the Award of the previous Adjudicator Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., did not do full justice to the workmen. Issues were raised in both the cases and they are detailed below.

The pleadings of the parties in both the cases were similar. At the request of the parties, the cases were heard together for the convenience, and this Award shall govern the matters mentioned above.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:

For the Unions—Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, representing both the Unions, Secretary, Allen Berry Masdoor Congress, Deodar Street, Calcutta, and Sri M. C. Banerji, Secretary, Allen Berry & Co. (Sodepur) Masdoor Union, Sodepur, 24-Parganas.

For the Company—Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., District Judge, Calcutta, and Sri J. K. Ghosh, Pleader, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and Sri S. K. Ghosh, Pleader, Hazra Road, Calcutta.

The Sodepur Union also demanded an annual increment at the rate of 1/10th of the basic wage as mentioned above.

The previous award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., shows that similar demands were also made before him by the two Unions. It, therefore, clearly appears that the Unions are attempting in this proceeding to re-agitate the claims that were refused by the previous Adjudicator Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in his awards.

The Company states in its written statement in the Haara Road Case "that the demand made by the Union under this head is the same as in the last adjudication and it was duly considered by the then learned Adjudicator Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., who gave his award (which was duly published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 15th June 1948) fixing minimum wage and grade in appropriate cases. The Company has strictly implemented all the directions in the last award. Since the publication of the last award, there has not been any change of circumstances justifying revision of wage structure. The Company submits that the total emoluments enjoyed by its workmen are higher than those received by similar workmen and as no case has been made for an increase and in view of the present financial position of the Company, further increase in the pay scale is not possible. The same is also the Company's pleading in the other case. It appears from the award of the learned Adjudicator that he accepted as fair, a minimum basic wage of Rs. 30 per month for the unskilled workman, as it was availing in the Company at the time of the adjudication proceedings and did not modify the existing minimum basic pay of Rs. 30 per month.

For the three categories of skilled workmen for which the Haara Road Union claimed the minimum basic pay of Rs. 60, Rs. 80 and Rs. 100 respectively in the grades of Rs. 60-4-120-5-170, Rs. 80-5-120-8-300-10-2-228 and Rs. 100-8-140-10-200-10-300 and the Sodepur Union claimed the minimum wages of Rs. 70, Rs. 85 and Rs. 100, respectively, with annual increments of 10 per cent. of the pay, the learned Adjudicator accepted the basic pay of Rs. 55, Rs. 60, and Rs. 75 per month respectively for the three categories, as it was availing in the Company at the time.

The scale of pay of the peons was fixed at Rs. 25-1-40 and that for the durwans at Rs. 30-1-45 with an excess of Rs. 5 for the head durwan.

For three categories of drivers of cars and trucks, the learned Adjudicator fixed wages of Rs. 55, Rs. 60 and Rs. 65 in place of the then existing basic pay of Rs. 50, Rs. 60 and Rs. 65, respectively.

The demand for revision of salary of Supervisory Assistant Foreman and Foreman who were getting basic pay at Rs. 100, Rs. 175 and Rs. 200 per month, respectively, was rejected.

These scales of basic pay for different categories of workmen apply equally to the employees of Sodepur Depot according to the award of the learned Adjudicator in the dispute between the Company and the workmen at Sodepur, published in the Calcutta Gazette on 28th June 1948.

The learned Adjudicator directed the Company to implement the suggestions given by Chandra Banerji, who was asked to report on the question of granting of increments and revision of the salary of clerks.

The learned Pleader for the Company submitted that, inasmuch as the learned Adjudicator did not fix any grade for the unskilled workmen, the Union is not entitled to demand a revision of the salary of unskilled workmen.

the minimum basic pay should be increased and similar increments should be given to all categories of employees. It was also contended that the workmen got annual increments in pay in 1947 and since after 1947 the award of the previous Adjudicator and that they, therefore, should be given increments in wages for the last two years.

The learned Advocate for the Company cited the observations of Sir H. B. Divatia in his award in the dispute between Bombay Electric Supply and Traction Co. Ltd. and its non-scheduled employees published in the Bombay Labour Gazette, paragraph 482 at page 488, where it stated as follows:—

"Mr. Kolah on behalf of the Company contended that the Adjudicator cannot give any decision about any matters for the period which was covered by the rejection of any demand made in previous adjudications and that the employees cannot make any demands in this adjudication which are substantially the same as those in previous adjudications. Without going so far to say that the employees are barred by res judicata any demands which are made before me and covered by any decision in the previous adjudications cannot be proceeded now, unless employees prove any change of circumstances in the previous decision. If there has been no change of circumstances, the mere ground that previous Adjudicator had not granted a demand would not, in my opinion, justify the employees repeating the same demand before a new Adjudicator because that would be substantially asking one Adjudicator to sit in judgment over the decision of another Adjudicator. On principle Adjudicator should not change the previous award without proof of any new or altered circumstances."

This principle has been followed by several Adjudicators (vide Bihar Gazette Extraordinary dated 14th March 1949) in the case of Tin-ply Company, Jamshedpur, and its employees. In my mind, the observations of Sir H. B. Divatia quoted above enunciate sound principles of adjudication and should be followed. It has been urged by the Unions that there has been a change of circumstances during the last one year of the period of its operation of the award or that after as may warrant a revision of the basic pay of the workmen at the present moment. The question of the rise or otherwise of the cost of living index may be considered only in the case of dearness allowance.

In these circumstances, it is decided that the claim for revision of basic wages fixed by the previous adjudicator in June 1948 should be rejected and it is awarded accordingly.

(b) Classification of employees.—The Unions make certain claims as to classification of employees. The Haara Road Union demands that the workmen should be distinctly known for the work they do and for the proper valuation of their job, the workmen should be scientifically classified as mentioned in their demands. The Sodepur Union claims for a classification of workmen according to their skill and suggests that for this purpose a joint committee should be formed. The award of Sri Sen in the previous award was also made in the previous award and the question of classification of workmen was left open as it was the duty of the Tribunal to make an award for the classification of skilled workers. The Commission is not competent to make an award for the classification of unskilled workers. The skill of the individual workmen is not a matter for consideration in the classification of workmen.

Issue No. 2.—Dearness allowance.

(Cases Nos. 42 and 51.)

The learned Adjudicator in the previous proceedings awarded dearness allowance for all categories of workmen according to the following scales:—

Pay range.	Dearness allowance
		Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	...	25
From Rs. 51—100	...	35
From Rs. 101—150	...	40
From Rs. 151—200	...	45
From Rs. 201 and above	...	50

The Hazra Road Union claims dearness allowance at 80 per cent. of the basic pay with a minimum of Rs. 49 according to the scale of dearness allowance paid by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The Sodepur Union claimed dearness allowance at 90 per cent. of the basic pay with a minimum of Rs. 50 per month, according to the award of the Mercantile Tribunal, which was based on the scale of dearness allowance awarded by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

The scale of dearness allowance awarded by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce or by the Mercantile Firms in Calcutta has never been the scale of dearness allowance paid by any industrial establishment in the Province. Reference may be made to the scales of dearness allowance paid in the principal industries in the Province, viz., the Jute Textile, the Cotton Textile and the Engineering industries. The factory workers of the Allen Berry Company should receive the scales of dearness allowance as allowed in the award of the Engineering Tribunal and the learned Adjudicator in the previous proceedings granted exactly such a scale of the dearness allowance.

The question is, if there has been any change of circumstances justifying a revision of the award on dearness allowance made by the previous Adjudicator Sri Sen. The dearness allowance is based upon the cost of living index, and if there has been a substantial rise in this index, a revision of the scale of dearness allowance is justified. In June 1948, when the award of Sri Sen was made, the cost of living index as compiled by the Provincial Statistical Bureau, Calcutta, was 337.9 for the middle-class and 351.4 for the working class men. It gradually went on increasing from month to month till in October 1948, it attained the values of 364.3 and 384.3 respectively for the two classes.
It then gradually diminished and fell down to 342.5 and 359.6 in March 1949 and again went on increasing steadily up to September, the figures for which were 357.3 and 374.8. The dearness allowance was allowed by the Tribunal in the scale suggested in the report of the Central Pay Commission, subject to a maximum of Rs. 50 per month. As there has been a substantial rise (i.e., of about 20 points) in the dearness allowance, since the publication of the last award, it is awarded that all the scales of the dearness allowance below Rs. 50 per month should be increased by Rs. 5. The Company stated that its financial condition was so unsatisfactory that it could bear no additional costs even by way of an increase in the dearness allowance. In the next issue I have discussed about the financial condition of the Company. I do not consider that the increase of the dearness allowance as mentioned above mean too great a burden on the finances of the Company. The dearness allowance, therefore, will stand as follows:—

Pay range. Dearness allowance.

	Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	... 30
From Rs. 51—100	... 40
From Rs. 101—150	... 45
From Rs. 151 and above	... 50

No claim as to the dearness allowance for the clerks of Sodepur Depot was pressed at the hearing of the case as it was stated the scale of dearness allowance paid to the clerks was satisfactory.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.—City allowances and house allowances.

(Case No. 42.)

The Hazra Road Union claimed a city allowance at Rs. 10 per month per head and a house rent allowance at the rate of 15 per cent. of the basic wage, with minimum of Rs. 10 per month. The learned Adjudicator in the previous case refused this claim on the ground that no other Motor Company paid a city allowance or a house allowance in addition to the basic pay and dearness allowance. I do not consider there has been any change of circumstances in the meantime justifying an alteration of this award and this claim is rejected.

Issue No. 3.—House allowance, travelling allowance and educational allowance.

(Case No. 51.)

The Sodepur Union also claimed a house allowance at Rs. 15 per cent. of the basic pay with a minimum of Rs. 10. It also claimed that proper facilities should be offered to every workman to develop himself and that the Company should arrange at their own expense for technical and primary education of their workmen and their children. As to travelling allowance, its claim is that the allowance paid to the workmen known as travelling allowance is inadequate to cover the total expense for the purpose and the Union suggested that it should be at a flat rate of Rs. 10 per month.

The claim of house rent allowance was rejected by the Tribunal last year. I do not find any ground to revise that decision, and award accordingly.

The claim for education allowance is not specific in as much as it does not mention any specific amount of money claimed. The demand that the Company should arrange at their own expense for the technical and primary education of their workmen and children is not pressed, as the responsibility for provision of educational facilities cannot be imposed upon the employer. "The task was primarily one for the Government and the local bodies and it was for the Government authorities to take the lead and to call upon the employers to assist and participate in the educational facilities." This claim was rejected in Case No. 13 in the previous year. I do not find any ground to revise that order and the decision is affirmed.

In the previous year, the Union claimed a travelling allowance of Rs. 10 per month per head to cover the expenses of the workmen and their children for travelling to and from the depot. The learned Adjudicator in the previous case refused this claim on the ground that no other Motor Company paid a travelling allowance in addition to the basic pay and dearness allowance. I do not consider there has been any change of circumstances in the meantime justifying an alteration of this award and this claim is rejected.

amount of Rs. 2 is inadequate to cover the expenses for the purpose and they claim a rate of Rs. 10 per month. I do not find substance in the claim and it is rejected.

Issue No. 4.—Bonus.

(Cases Nos. 42 and 51.)

The Hazra Road Union claimed three pay and dearness allowance as the award with a scheme of production bonus to jointly between the Company and the Sodepur Union claimed three months' bonus for 1949 and claimed additional bonus months for the past (1948) year in month's bonus was paid. The Sodepur states that the Company is a profitable and the workmen by dint of their service contributed to the prosperity of the concern, therefore, should be paid bonus at the three months' wage every year.

The Company opposed the Union's bonus on the ground of financial difficulties prayed for following the principles laid in the last award on this question. It also stated that the claim of production bonus was in the last award and there was no ground for re-agitating this matter in this proceeding.

I take the case of production bonus as learned Adjudicator in the last award that the Company was not mainly a manufacturing Company but did repairs and assembling small parts were made as required. In the nature of work done by the Company learned Tribunal observed that there was no ground for introduction of production bonus, with this decision of the learned Adjudicator, I reject the claim of production bonus as the Hazra Road Union.

As to general bonus, the Company claimed annual bonus equal to thirty days' pay to completing twelve months' service and days' pay to workers who had not completed twelve months' service both in 1947 and 1948. It appears that for the purpose of bonus the Company has paid an annual bonus to thirty days' pay for twelve months' service a long time. In this present proceedings the Company has taken the plea that it is not possible to pay any bonus at all in view of the fact it has been incurring loss since July 1948.

Some extracts of accounts (Extracts submitted by the Company to show that the year ending 31st December 1948, the gross income of the Company was about Rs. 10½ lacs and expenses were about Rs. 33½ lacs and for the year ending 30th June 1949 the gross income was about Rs. 13½ lacs and the expenses were about Rs. 31½ lacs. Some extracts of income statements were also submitted before me.)

It was not possible for me to make any investigation as to these accounts with the ledgers, some of which were produced. The copies of the Accountant of the Company's accounts, it appeared that in certain of the original works made by the Company in the matter of reconditioning and repairs of vehicles, the amount of costs incurred by the Company for the sake of accounts, was not in accordance with the rules framed by the Company and this amounts to about 55 per cent. of the actual receipts on sale. It was for the Accountant to disclose the actual costs of the Disposal of vehicles for the justification of the accounts. The Union questioned the correctness of the accounts.

and suggested that these entries of costs exaggerated and resulted in a reduction of net profits. In the statement of expenses, the interest at more than Rs. 2 lacs in each year was also criticised by the Union. No interest was, however, paid in the half year ended 30th June 1949, although the salaries and wages of the Automobile Section appears to be Rs. 7½ lacs in place of about Rs. 5 lacs in previous half year.

The extracts of accounts produced before me show that the financial condition of the Company somewhat deteriorated since July 1948; I am, however, convinced that it is as desperate as the extracts purport to mean it to be.

In view of the fact that an annual bonus equal to thirty days' pay for workers who had completed twelve months' service has been paid to the workmen in this Company for a long time, I do consider that the payment of this bonus has become a condition of service and the claim for payment of this bonus cannot be resisted by the Company. In view of the present deterioration of the financial condition of the Company, I reject the claim for a bonus equal to three months' pay. I, therefore, direct that the Company should pay a bonus for thirty days' basic pay according to their existing rules for the year ended 31st August 1949 to the workmen represented by both the Unions. The claim that bonus should also include a dearness allowance is rejected. The bonus shall be paid on the basis of the monthly basic pay.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 5.—Gratuity and Provident Fund.

(Cases Nos. 42 and 51.)

Provident Fund.—The Hazra Road Union claimed that the Provident Fund rules should be revised and the contribution of both the employer and the workmen should be fixed at the rate of ½ per cent. of the basic pay and the employer's contributions and interest thereon should not be withheld or withdrawn in any circumstances. The claim of the Sodepur Union on this point is that the Provident Fund rule should be modified to the line of the Union's original claim of 8½ per cent. contribution of the basic wage by both the employer and the employee and in no circumstances the said contribution of the employer and interest thereon should be allowed to be withheld or withdrawn.

The Company's reply is that the question was taken into in the last adjudication and the Company's Provident Fund scheme was deemed fair by the learned Adjudicator.

The previous Adjudicator Sri Sen directed the setting of a Provident Fund scheme with a contribution at the rate of 6½ per cent. of the basic pay both by the employee and the employer. The learned Adjudicator approved of the rules of the Provident Fund as presented to him and also suggested an amendment making the membership of the Fund compulsory, so far as the Hazra Road and the Sodepur employees were concerned. I am told that the Provident Fund scheme was thrown open to the workmen of the Hazra Road Workshop on 1st January 1947 and workmen of the Sodepur Depot on 1st April 1947. I do not propose to make any alteration in the scheme of the Contributory Provident Fund as suggested by the learned Adjudicator and award the same to the employees of the Contributory Provident Fund.

The Hazra Road Union claimed gratuity at the rate of one month's wage for each year of service in the Company. The Sodepur Union also demanded gratuity at the rate of one month's wage for each year of service in the Company at retirement, forced or voluntary. The claim of gratuity was claimed in addition to the provision for Provident Fund.

Sri Sen did not allow gratuity in addition to Contributory Provident Fund benefit. He awarded that gratuity will be payable as an alternative retiral benefit, in case the benefit of the Contributory Provident Fund was not extended to all the employees of the Company compulsorily. In view of the fact, however, that the Provident Fund was introduced for the first time in 1947 for the workmen both in the Hazra Road Workshop and the Sodepur Depot, I do consider that there should be a system of gratuity of a complementary character, to meet the needs of the old employees and also employees in general, under the circumstances of death or retirement on account of superannuation or on medical grounds. It is, therefore, awarded that there should be a scheme of supplementing the benefit of the Contributory Provident Fund by a scheme of gratuity for some years next. The provision of this system of gratuity shall be as follows:—

- (1) On retirement after continuous service for not less than fifteen years—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service, subject to a maximum of fifteen months' basic pay.
- (2) On retirement, before completing fifteen years' service, by reason of superannuation on medical grounds or owing to any other sufficient cause approved by the employer in this behalf—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service.
- (3) On death—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service (payable to the employee's nominee or nominees or heirs), subject to a maximum of fifteen months' basic pay.
- (4) The basis of calculating gratuity shall be the average basic pay, not including overtime wages or any allowances, bonuses or other benefits, during the last twelve months of service on full pay.
- (5) For the period for which Provident Fund has been in operation in respect of an employee, he or his nominee or nominees or heirs will receive the whole amount at his credit in the fund including the amounts of the employer's contribution, subject to the operation of the rules of the Provident Fund of the Company in this behalf, but in calculating the number of years of service for which gratuity will be payable, the period for which the Provident Fund has been in operation in respect of the particular employee shall be deducted from the total period of service.

This issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 6.—Leave and holidays.

(Cases Nos. 42 and 51.)

The Hazra Road Union claimed the following periods of leave and holidays:—

Privilege leave—One month per year to be accumulated up to three months.

Casual leave—Fifteen days.

Sick leave—Fifteen days with full pay, and thereafter till recovery on half pay. The leave on half pay should be accumulated up to the six months.

All public holidays in a year—Leave holidays should be with full pay and an allowance.

The Sodepur Union claimed the same periods of privilege leave, sick leave, casual leave, and half-days as mentioned above and also claimed quarantine leave as necessary with full pay and dearness allowance.

The learned Tribunal in the previous proceeding awarded fourteen days' leave on full pay including ten days' consecutive holidays under the Factories Act, eight festival holidays with full pay, and fifteen days' sick leave on half pay in a year. The sick leave was to be admissible so long as the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, did not come into operation. The claim before the Tribunal was the same as made before me by the two Unions. The Sodepur Union complained that the Company used to grant the workmen seven days' casual leave with full pay but that the last award provided for no casual leave to workmen. The Company opposed the claim of leave and holidays as preferred by the Unions.

As the Factories Act has been amended in the meantime, the provision of fourteen days' leave on full pay including ten days' consecutive holidays under the Factories Act as provided for in the last award is unnecessary. Section 79 of the Factories Act provides for annual leave with wages at one day for every twenty days of work in the previous period of twelve months subject to a minimum of ten days for adults and at one day for every fifteen days of work in the previous period of twelve months subject to a minimum of fourteen days for a child, under certain conditions laid down in the Act. These provisions should apply to the workmen of both the workshops in the Company in place of the provision for fourteen days' leave on full pay allowed in the last award. Other provisions for leave as granted in the last award shall continue. I do not consider that any further directions are necessary in view of the circumstances of the case.

It is however awarded that a workman shall be entitled to casual leave for a period up to seven days in a year on full pay but every such casual leave shall reduce the sick leave admissible by two days.

This issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 7.—Uniform for workmen.

(Case No. 42.)

This claim was preferred only by the Hazra Road Union, and it is demanded that uniform and clothings should be supplied to the workmen to the extent of 2 sets in the year on condition of free replacement if damaged earlier. This demand was made by the Unions in the previous adjudication. The Company opposes this demand and states that durwans and bearers are supplied with uniforms and there was no justification for the demand of supply of uniforms and clothings to the ordinary workmen. This claim was raised by the learned Adjudicator in the previous proceeding on the ground that there was no system of supplying clothes to ordinary workmen and no Motor Company was supplying such clothes. I agree with the learned Adjudicator in the previous case that this demand should be rejected on the grounds mentioned by him and is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 8.—Sick leave and dearness allowance.

No. 50.

Both the Unions claimed the same periods of privilege leave, sick leave, casual leave, and half-days as mentioned above and also claimed quarantine leave as necessary with full pay and dearness allowance.

The claim is, therefore, rejected on the same grounds as are mentioned in the previous award.

There was also a demand by the Sodepur Union for overtime rates of wages for overtime work or for enhanced grace period in attendance. The overtime rates are clearly governed by the Factories Act and I have nothing to direct on this question.

As to grace period in attendance, it is suggested that factory gates should be closed after 15 minutes and re-open after another 15 minutes. Work who come within the periods shall be allowed work. After the mid-day break a workman also be allowed to start work with half a day remuneration. In the previous proceedings a point was taken and the learned Adjudicator awarded that the existing grace period of 10 minutes for attendance after the scheduled time for start work was quite satisfactory and needed no modification. The Standing Orders of the Company which have been filed and is Exhibit N, will show a grace period of 10 minutes for late arrival. I do not find any reason to enhance the grace period or alter the award of the learned Adjudicator in the last proceedings and it is awarded according Issue No. 9.—Attendance allowance.

(Case No. 42.)

The Hazra Road Union claimed that the workmen should be granted an allowance to meet expense they incurred in attending office proposed Rs. 10 per month to be the minimum this in Calcutta and more for those who come from distant places. The Company opposes this claim on the ground that there is no justification for demand. This question was not raised in the adjudication for the workmen of the Hazra Road Union.

I do not consider that any attendance allowance of the nature claimed by the Union is paid by industrial institution in Calcutta. It was pointed out to me that an allowance is paid to some of the workmen by the Company, at the rate of 1 anna per day to as many as 13 workmen, by way of travelling allowance. It is better for the workmen to approach the Company for this benefit. There is no practice of paying attendance allowance in any industrial institution, this claim is refused. The Company, however, is directed not to alter existing practice of payment of travelling allowance to the prejudice of any workman in view of the award in this proceeding.

Issue No. 10.—Medical aid.

(Case No. 42.)

The Hazra Road Union claimed free supply of medical advice, medicines and medical diet for workmen and their dependants at the Company's workshop and at the residence of the workmen. The Company's reply is that no such claim was raised in the last adjudication and that arrangements already existing in the Company were satisfactory. This demand was raised in the present adjudication and the award of the last adjudication was that a doctor should attend daily at the Hazra Road, viz., one hour in the morning and one hour in the afternoon, at Hazra Road. The demand for medical aid for the family and free supply of medicines was rejected. It is stated by the Company's doctor comes to the Hazra Road every morning and afternoon but that although he comes in the morning only for about half an hour. It is mentioned that the award of the last adjudication should be strictly followed. The elaborate claim for medical aid is rejected.

and by the Union including the claim for of workmen's family and free supply of food were rejected by the learned Judge in the previous proceeding, and I also accordingly. Arranging for medical aid is the responsibility of the employer and the Union on this question will be when the Employees' State Insurance Act, comes into operation.

I told that there is no doctor at the Park Road Room of the Company and a worker medical aid is made to consult the Hazra Medical Officer. As there are about 100 in the Park Street Show Room, the should make proper arrangements for the medical doctor to be available also at Park Road at least once in the day.

Although there was no claim on this issue by the Union, I am told by the learned Pleader for the Union, that the award of the Adjudicator as to the daily attendance of in the Sodepur Depot was not being attended. The learned Adjudicator directed the Company to arrange for a doctor to attend to employees at Sodepur Workshop for at least every working day. This direction should be attended by the Company without fail and decided accordingly.

The issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 11.—Canteen and free tiffin.

(Case No. 42.)

Hazra Road Union claims that the Company is at the expense of the staff required to run the canteen or should themselves supply or a tiffin allowance of eight annas per day. A very same prayer was made by both the sides before the previous Adjudicator. The learned Adjudicator on the point should follow the previous award accordingly.

I pointed out to me that the canteen is small for the purpose. In my inspection at Hazra Road I found that this was justified. It is recommended that the Company should try to allot more space for the canteen.

No. 12.—Rest and recreation centre.

(Case No. 42.)

Hazra Road Union claimed that rest and recreation centre should be organised by the Company. A provision for indoor games and radio in the factory. The learned Tribunal in the adjudication refused this prayer on the ground of the Company that there was no accommodation and lack of building at the time. The New Factories Act (II) of 1948 came into operation on 1st April 1949 and section 47 of that Act makes the provision of shelters or rest rooms compulsory in every factory wherein more than 100 factory workers are ordinarily employed. A shelter or rest room should be provided under the provisions of the Factories Act in both the factories, viz., Hazra Road and Sodepur.

Issue No. 13.—Technical training.

(Case No. 42.)

Hazra Road Union claimed that the Company should give full pay and dearness allowance to the workers who are engaged in technical study. It also claims that the workers should be given an educational allowance at Rs. 5 per month. This prayer was also preferred in the previous proceeding and was rejected by the learned Adjudicator. I find any justification for the award accordingly. The learned Adjudicator's award is also Issue No. 8.—Date of payment of wages.

(Case No. 51.)

The Sodepur Union demands that the workmen's wages should be paid at the latest by the 3rd of the following month, and for persons who are in the ranks of Supervisors and upwards and the clerks should either be paid on the last date of the current month or on the first working day of the month. It is also prayed that pay for Sunday and holiday is to be paid to the worker and employee who attends the preceding and the succeeding day.

The Company in its written statement replied that the Payment of Wages Act and the Shops and Establishments Act govern the cases in question and there was no justification for alteration of the statutory provisions in these matters.

The same question was raised in the previous adjudication and it appears that in that proceeding the parties agreed that the question will be governed by the provisions of the Factories Act and accordingly no award was made on this issue. It is awarded that the question as to the payment of the wages of the workmen shall be governed by the Payment of Wages Act and that of the payment of wage to the clerks by the Shops and Establishments Act. It is further awarded that the question of payment of wage for a Sunday or a holiday shall be guided by the directions in the last award.

Issue No. 14.—Reinstatement of Provat Rahri with compensation for period of non-employment.

(Case No. 42.)

It appears that Provat Kumar Rahri, a Motor Mechanic of the Hazra Road Workshop, was suspended on 2nd February 1949 and subsequently discharged on the charge of theft of a small wooden block. The Union states that Provat Kumar Rahri was a member of the Executive Committee of the Union and his discharge was on a flimsy matter and amounted to victimisation. It further states that an enquiry was made by the Labour Directorate of the Government of West Bengal on 21st April 1949 in the presence of Officials of the Company and the Labour Directorate was of opinion that this workman should be reinstated. The Company states in its written statement that it was not aware whether Provat Rahri was a member of the Executive Committee of the Union but that this man was discharged for attempted theft after a careful enquiry. The reinstatement of this person was opposed by the Company.

Provat Rahri was examined in this case and cross-examined by the Company. It appears from his deposition that on 1st February 1949 he took a small wooden block and approached Naren Babu, the Service Manager, for issuing a gate pass for that article when Mr. Powrie, the Works Manager, came up and charged him with theft. It was suggested in cross-examination by the Company that the article was found on search with Provat Rahri by the durwan at the gate. This suggestion was denied by the witness. It was further denied by the witness that he was taken to Mr. Powrie, Mr. Varna, the General Manager, and Mr. Williamson, the Sales Manager, by the durwan, or that he could not give any satisfactory explanation of the possession of the article. No witness was examined on the side of the Company to prove the suggestions. On an examination of the file of the Labour Commissioner on the discharge of Provat Rahri it appears that a detailed enquiry was made by a Labour Officer and the Labour Directorate recommended the reinstatement of this employee on the ground that the order of discharge was very harsh. It appears to me that the article which was being taken by Provat Rahri, being a small wooden block, had very little market value and the plea that he was trying to take it with the permission of the Service Manager appears to be worthy of credit. It appears that no attempt at concealment of the article was made. In the circumstances of the case, I come to the conclusion that the discharge of Provat Rahri was based on wrong data and the order of discharge should not stand. This employee should be reinstated with effect from the date of the operation of this award. He is not, however, allowed any compensation for the period of his non-employment, in view of the fact that although the Company was wrong in coming to the conclusion of the necessity of discharge, the order was not mala fide.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 15.—Withdrawal of suspension of the following workmen with compensation for the period of suspension:—

- (a) Gourhari Pal.
- (b) Dazarath Pal.
- (c) Madhab Chandra Das.
- (d) Majnu Harijan.
- (e) Manilal Halder.
- (f) S. K. Bose.

(Case No. 42.)

The abovementioned workmen were suspended for two to six days under various circumstances proving misconduct. I have carefully considered the case of each of these workmen and do not find that in any case, the order of punishment of suspension was unjustified. I do not lay down here in detail the circumstances that led to the punishment of suspension in the case of each of these employees, as it is unnecessary. The prayer of withdrawal of suspension of these persons is rejected as I hold that these orders were necessary in the interest of the administration of the establishment.

Issue No. 9.—Revision of wages of the following employees:—

- (1) B. K. Majumdar.
- (2) M. N. Das.
- (3) G. P. Ghosh.
- (4) R. L. Dey.
- (5) P. S. Mukherji.
- (6) S. K. Banerji.
- (7) N. K. Lahiri.

(Case No. 51.)

(1) B. K. Majumdar, (2) M. N. Das, (3) G. P. Ghosh and (4) R. L. Dey.—It appears that B. K. Majumdar, M. N. Das, G. P. Ghosh and R. L. Dey, Supervisors in the Sodepur Depot, were appointed as independent Supervisors by the Company on 22nd March 1949 (Exhibit 7). Supervisors ordinarily work under the supervision of the Foreman of the Department. These four persons were appointed as independent Supervisors, not being subordinate to any Foreman. As Supervisors they used to get a basic salary of Rs. 300 per month. Ordinarily the Foreman of the Department gets a basic salary of Rs. 300 and the Assistant Foreman gets Rs. 185 per month. The Union claims that these four persons are entitled to receive salary of a Foreman, i.e. Rs. 300 per month. The Union (Exhibit 8) submitted by the Depot Manager Mr. H. B. Datta in this regard four persons informing that they were appointed as independent Supervisors and their salary was increased, as all Supervisors are paid by the Management. The Union (Exhibit 9) submitted by the Union in this regard four persons informing that they were appointed as independent Supervisors and their salary was increased, as all Supervisors are paid by the Management. The Union (Exhibit 10) submitted by the Union in this regard four persons informing that they were appointed as independent Supervisors and their salary was increased, as all Supervisors are paid by the Management.

the Union (Exhibit 11), for financial reasons. In the circumstances, it is recommended that each independent Supervisor may be granted an increment in salary to the extent of at least Rs. 100 per month in view of the greater responsibility of work as to them. I do not make any direction in this matter but make the recommendation and hope that the Company will consider the matter and pass due orders accordingly.

(5) P. S. Mukherji.—It appears that P. S. Mukherji has been doing the work of the charge of the Sodepur Depot since November 1948 on the transfer of the former Store-in-charge, Mr. Burman, but has not been granted any allowance. Mr. Burman used to get a salary of Rs. 300 per month and Sri Mukherji is getting an old salary of Rs. 95 per month. Exhibit 12 is an application addressed by Sri Mukherji to the Company on 14th May 1949, for a remuneration for the additional work of a charge. It does not, however, appear that orders were passed by the Company on this application. In the circumstances of the case, I doubt that Sri Mukherji is entitled to an allowance for the additional work he has been doing since December 1948 (vide letter, Exhibit 13). It is not possible to assess the amount of extra allowance to be paid to Sri Mukherji on account of the extra work and leave it to be fixed by the Company at a reasonable amount. This extra allowance should be paid to him with effect from the date he was doing the duties of the Store-in-charge.

(6) S. K. Banerji.—The Union's case is that Banerji is a gentleman who is the Record Clerk and does the work of a Typist in addition to his ordinary work. Since the discharge of two Typists in the Depot, but in spite of verbal assurance he has not been given any consideration and it has been claimed that relief should be given to him with retrospective effect for the additional work done by him. In the case does not deserve the same consideration as the preceding two matters. I do not recommend any recommendation or pass any orders in this matter. It is for the Company to consider the matter and do the needful.

(7) N. K. Lahiri.—This gentleman was appointed as a Typist and really the issue should have been whether he was entitled to reinstatement or not. The parties were well aware of this at the time of the issue in respect of this officer. The Union opposed this claim on the ground that the matter had not been referred by the Government and the Tribunal was incompetent to adjudicate on this matter. This question is considered in the next issue where the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to adjudicate on the matter will be dealt with.

Issue No. 10.—Is the Tribunal competent to adjudicate on the claims over Sri N. K. Lahiri in issue No. 9?

(Case No. 51.)

The Government Order of No. 3527/Lab., dated 4th August 1949, appended to it, the report, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, of the Officer in the proceedings in conciliation. The parties and this report shows the demands of the Company on which the claims referred to the Tribunal for adjudication. This charter of demands does not include a claim for reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri. The Union, in making the reference to the Tribunal for adjudication, had in mind the reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri. The Union in this proceeding has not made any claim for reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri. The Union has only made a claim for compensation for the loss of wages.

statement of Sri N. K. Lahiri on the Company was argued by the learned Pleader, that as a dispute, over the reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri, was in existence between the Company and the Tribunal should adjudicate on it. It is not enough that there is a dispute between the Company and the Tribunal, but this dispute should be pressed further for conciliation or arbitration, to obtain relief in any one of these things. It does not appear that the learned Adjudicator had this dispute before him for the purpose of conciliation and it cannot be said that this dispute was mentioned by him in his report under section 12(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The decision of the Hon'ble High Court at Madras in the case between the Kandamallam Tea Co., Ltd., and the Industrial Tribunal (I) and others may be referred to in this connection. The Hon'ble Judges agreed with the observations of the learned Judges who decided the case in Ramayya Pantulu vs. Kutty & Rao Neeris, Ltd., as follows:—

"It seems to us on a fair reading of section 10, that the Government must have reason to believe that in a particular business a definite dispute is in existence or is apprehended by reason of discussions and discussions taking place amongst the workers and Management * * *. It seems to us from the general purport of the Act that a responsibility lay upon the Government of deciding the existence and nature of a dispute and to exercise their mind and decide whether it was necessary to refer that dispute to a Tribunal for award." In another place the Hon'ble Judges observe as follows:—"A dismissed workman may himself be aggrieved but may make no demand on the Management, or after a demand may not press the matter further; in which case, it would be wrong to say that an industrial dispute exists." The observations of the Hon'ble Judges are entirely opposite to the matter in question here. It cannot, therefore, be maintained that Sri N. K. Lahiri pursued the matter of his reinstatement up to the conciliation proceedings or beyond the jurisdiction of the Manager of the Company. It cannot, therefore, be stated that the Government had the duty of the discharge of Sri N. K. Lahiri in their hands, when the present reference was made for adjudication. It cannot, therefore, be pressed that this present reference includes the case of discharge or reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri.

Sri N. K. Lahiri was the Manager of the Sodepur Depot when he was discharged by the Company on 18th December 1948, on a charge of misconduct. The Company in its written statement preferred the objections that Sri Lahiri was not a workman under the Industrial Disputes Act at the time he was discharged, inasmuch as, he was only a Principal Officer doing only supervisory duties. There is no evidence on record to justify the conclusion that Sri N. K. Lahiri was a workman within the definition of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, inasmuch as, he was the Manager entrusted with the supervision of the depot. Sir H. B. Divatia in his award on the case of India Life Insurance Co. Ltd. dispute decided in Bombay Labour Gazette, October 1947, page 187, observes "that the definition of industrial work in a trade or industry must be applied to the work done by persons who are holding a subordinate position and work under the orders or supervision of other servants of the same employer whom they work and who are not employed as Officers." In this view the matter of Sri N. K. Lahiri cannot claim the status of a workman under the Industrial Disputes Act. The jurisdiction of the Company on this point is not upheld. It, therefore, cannot be said that the claim for reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri is not an industrial dispute. If there were such a dispute, it should have been referred to this Tribunal by the appropriate Government. This Tribunal is not, therefore, competent to adjudicate on this dispute in this present reference.

Evidence was adduced on the claim of reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri. Sri N. K. Lahiri examined himself and was cross-examined by the Company and the Company produced some papers in support of its claim that the discharge was justified. I do not discuss the evidence or pass any award on merits, as it is unnecessary for me to do so, in view of the decision on the point mentioned above.

The claim for reinstatement of Sri N. K. Lahiri is not, therefore, entertained and it is awarded accordingly.

Issue No. 11.—Rules of Service and Security of Service.

(Case No. 51.)

The Sodepur Union claims the following as rules of service:—

"(a) In case of filling up a vacancy or new recruitment every worker claiming to have qualification for higher grade Trade should be given chance of promotion after proper test by Workers' Committee. And the III categories workers should be promoted after three years to categories of IV and V to VI after three years. At last categories of VI to special group after five years.

(b) Grant of acting allowance in case a worker or employee works in place of his superior hand.

(c) Apprentice and helper.—Period of learning should be three months. Minimum wages should be Rs. 70. In no case the learner should get less than the minimum living wages of categories III".

(a) As to the claim of promotion, the learned Adjudicator in the previous proceeding framed elaborate rules and I do not find anything to add to it and award that the same rules should be followed.

(b) The company should certainly grant a suitable allowance in case a worker or employee works in place of a superior employee. The amount of acting allowance should, however, be fixed by the Company in view of the efficiency and skill of the workman concerned and the character of the work he is asked to perform. The amount should be fixed, as far as possible, in view of the basic wage the workman will be entitled to get, if he had been promoted to the higher post in question.

(c) As to an apprentice and helper a detailed direction was given by the learned Adjudicator in the previous proceeding in Issue No. 2(d). These directions should be followed by the Company in this respect.

Security of service.—(On this head the Union makes the following demands:—

"(a) A worker and employee to be made permanent after three months' continuous work.

(b) No person shall be discharged unless it is a case of dishonesty, which shall have to be proved by an enquiry committee having equal representation of employer and the Allen Berry & Co. Sodepur Mandor Union.

(c) In case of discharge of permanent hand three months' notice or pay in lieu of that to be given.

(d) Proper service cards denoting date of appointment, occupation, etc., to be maintained.

(e) Full compensation for loss in earnings due to enforced leave or any other involuntary unemployment.

(f) Each worker and employee shall be entitled to a service certificate at the time of leaving service, dismissal or discharge within the forty-eight hours."

(a) This claim probably means that the period of probation of a worker and employee should be three months as at present prevailing. The probationary period has been fixed by the Company in its Standing Orders (Exhibit N) at three months and there appears to be no dispute on the point and the same was the decision in the previous proceeding by the learned Adjudicator.

(b), (c) & (e) These questions were fully adjudicated on by the learned Adjudicator in the previous proceedings in Issue No. 2(b). I agree with those decisions and award that the same directions should be followed by the parties in these respects.

(d) Proper service cards denoting the date of appointment, occupation, etc., of the workmen are to be maintained by the Company and a copy of such card is to be handed over to the workmen concerned.

(f) Each worker and employee should be entitled to a service certificate at the time of leaving service, discharged or dismissed, within three days of the date of discharge or dismissal.

This award shall govern both the references by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under Order No. 3060Lab., dated 21st June 1949, and Order No. 3827Lab., dated 4th August 1949.

SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (Retd.),
Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

Matter of an industrial dispute between East India Rubber Works, Ltd., their workmen as represented by the Howrah Rubber Karkhana Mazdoor Union.

Company:—Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate.

Union:—Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4528Lab., dated the 8th September 1949, this industrial dispute between the East India Rubber Works, Ltd., 3, Stark Road, Howrah, and their workmen as represented by the Howrah Rubber Karkhana Mazdoor Union, 6, Peary Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the said Order, has been referred to me as an industrial dispute for adjudication. The facts as presented by the parties are in brief as follows: The Howrah Rubber Karkhana Mazdoor Union, which was recently formed, sent a charter of demands to the authorities of the Company in May 1949, after the discharge of two workers, Govinda Das and Manindra Acharya. After two more workers named Ashit Chakrabarti and Abdul Hakim were discharged early in 1949. Towards the end of March the year of the Union sent a strike notice to the Company. Shortly after that the Labour Commissioner took up conciliation proceedings invited both parties to call at his office for a discussion on the 31st March 1949. No representative of the Union appears to have attended the conference called by the Labour Commissioner. Employees, under the advice of the Union, commenced a strike on the 2nd April. It is stated by the Union that on that date the workers were discharged by the Company without any notice. The Company denies the discharge of the workers. The Company denies the commencement of the strike that these two workers had been discharged at all, and expressed its willingness to allow them to resume work. The strike however was continued in spite of the efforts of the Labour Commissioner and other officers of the Labour Directorate to bring about a termination of the cessation of work. The Company issued different notices from time to time during April till it formally declared a lock-out on the 27th April. The efforts of the Labour Commissioner and his staff even in May and June to get the parties reconciled failed. The Labour Commissioner however succeeded in bringing about a settlement on the 9th July 1949, and in accordance with the terms of the settlement the factory was reopened on and from the 11th July 1949. In the light of the statements submitted by the parties, and in accordance with the schedule appended to the order of reference, the following issues have been framed:—

- (1) Minimum basic pay and dearness allowance.
- (2) 25 per cent increment in the basic pay of those workers who draw more than Rs. 30 per month as basic pay.
- (3) Leave and holidays.
- (4) Compensation for involuntary idleness.
- (5) Reinstatement of (i) Manindra Acharya, (ii) Abdul Hakim, (iii) Govinda Das, (iv) Ashit Chakrabarty.
- (6) Provident Fund.
- (7) Medical arrangements.
- (8) Security service.
- (9) Compensation for strike period from the 2nd April 1949 to the 9th July 1949.

2. In course of these proceedings witnesses have been examined on both sides and some documentary evidence has also been taken. I also inspected the factory and watched the workmen in the different sections doing their work. This adjudication is concerned with all employees of the Company excepting three higher paid employees, namely, an expert, a superintendent, and a cashier. The present award will apply to all employees other than these three. The Company has generally pleaded its inability to increase the emoluments received by the different categories of employees, and has contended that it is not a prosperous concern. A few varieties of rubber goods are manufactured in this factory, namely, car tyres, solid rubber sheets, pedal rubbers, moulded rubber goods and cloth fabrics are also rubberised here. The number of employees is in the neighbourhood of 200. It is obviously a small concern. On behalf of the Company it was pointed out, with reference to the balance-sheets and profit and loss accounts, that the profit in 1946 was roughly Rs. 10,650, that in 1947 was roughly Rs. 2,810, and that in 1948 was roughly Rs. 8,870. It has been contended on behalf of the Union that these balance-sheets and accounts do not represent the whole truth, and substantial profits made by this private limited company, which is a family concern, lie hidden. Nothing definite can be said with regard to this aspect of the matter, and I am of opinion that the balance-sheets and profit and loss accounts should be taken into consideration for what they are worth, although it is not necessary to take them as the last words on the subject. It seems unlikely that this private limited company is making enormous profits by running this small factory. On the other hand the workers should be placed on a reasonable level of wages consistent with the present day cost of living, and the poor emoluments given to the lowest paid workers of this Company should be raised to a reasonable extent, consistently with the capacity of the industry to bear the extra burden. In this connection the Union has drawn my attention to an award in connection with the industrial dispute between R. B. S. Jain Rubber Mills, Ltd.,

direct that permanent employees shall be to sick leave on half of total emolument days or sick leave on full emolument up in a year, on the basis of a proper medical given by the Medical Officer of the or by a qualified medical practitioner by the Company.

Issue No. 4.

now pass on to deal with Issue No. 4 to the subject of compensation for any idleness. The Union has made it course of the hearing that no general pro- is contemplated by this demand which, pointed out, is restricted to the particular the closure of the factory for 14 days from bruary 1949 on account of the alleged ins- of the boiler by the Boiler Inspector. In t of the facts and circumstances I do not ficient reason for suspecting that the was closed by the authorities for an un- ily long period, as unnecessary prolonga- the period of closure would not be benefi- them. It appears that the closure for 14 is necessitated by circumstances beyond the of the authorities. It further appears) workers were paid in respect of the y leave under the Factories Act, the period : forming part of the period of closure. It appears that a little less than 100 workers tually paid wages for having worked during iod of closure in sections which could be hout the use of steam power generated in ler which remained out of use for the time Taking all things into consideration I t disposed to direct any payment for in- ry idleness in connection with the lar occasion of closure.

Issue No. 5.

I next proceed to deal with Issue No. 5 g to the question of reinstatement of four rd workmen, namely, Manindra Acharya dged on 8th February 1949, Abdul Hakim l on 10th March 1949, Govinda Das dis- on 8th February 1949 and Asit Chakra- charged on 3rd March 1949. Of these ons Govinda and Asit have not appeared s Tribunal, and I have got no opportunity ining whether they are still unemployed r they actually desire any reinstatement old jobs under this Company. I am, not prepared to consider the cases of Das and Asit Chakravarty. As regards his case is that he was a worker in the department and was discharged without on 8th February 1949 by Sri Parasuram ather of the Managing Director Sri . Bajaj. It is alleged by Manindra that gentleman Parasuram considered him to mas as he was trying to form a union ordered Manindra to be driven away. It r alleged by Manindra that he had called g of the workers on the 7th February asuram Babu had seen it and got Parasuram Bajaj and others have d the version of the other side to the at Parasuram was not in Howrah or on or about the 8th February and he had d to Duglar in January. The evidence ndra regarding his alleged trade union has not been corroborated by any other . In fact the Union was not formed at of his discharge. The evidence of the Ratanlal Baid is to the effect that was making matters badly and making s, and he did not listen to several r. The Manager discharged him. The Company the reasons of n. Manindra are alleged to damage to finished goods. In the notes made in the Labour Commis- sioner's file in connection with the negotiations for the purpose of conciliation the reasons for dis- charge of workers generally are noted to be in- discipline and negligence in the performance of work. The evidence adduced before me on the side of the Company and the statements made by the Company are not substantially inconsistent with the notes in the Labour Commissioner's file. It is unlikely that Manindra was discharged with- out any reason, and I am unable to find on the materials placed at my disposal that he was dis- charged on account of any trade union activities or that such discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice. It is probable that Manindra was discharged on account of negligence in work. As regards Abdul Hakim his case is that he and some others were not paid their wages on 7th March 1949 which would be the last pay day under the law, and when on 10th March 1949 he pro- tested against his not being paid his wages in due time he was summarily dismissed by the Manager. The Manager, in his evidence, has denied these allegations and has stated that the wages were paid to all workers including Abdul Hakim on the 7th March, and he discharged Abdul Hakim on 10th March 1949 as the worker was frequently found absent from his job and he did not listen to several warnings given to him and he also did his work badly and damaged goods. In the written statement of the Company it has been stated that Abdul Hakim was discharged for indiscipline and disobedience. The evidence on the side of the Company and the statements are not substantially inconsistent with the remarks made in this connec- tion in the Labour Commissioner's file. It appears from the pay sheets that Abdul Hakim and several others were paid their wages on 7th March 1949 and these entries tally with those in the Cash Book which appears to have been kept in the regular course of business. I am unable to find, on the materials placed at my disposal, that Abdul Hakim was discharged for the reasons alleged by him or on account of any trade union activities or that the discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice. It is probable that he was discharged on account of indiscipline and negli- gence in the performance of work.

6(1). On the above findings I am not disposed to make any order of reinstatement in the cases of Manindra Acharya and Abdul Hakim. It appears that Manindra served under this Company for over 14 months and Abdul Hakim did so for about 22 months. Under the particular circumstances the Company should have given them sufficient notice regarding termination of their service. I direct that each of Manindra Acharya and Abdul Hakim be paid their usual emoluments up to the respective dates of discharge and also an amount equal to the total emolument (basic wages plus dearness allowance) payable for one month, with- in a month from the date of publication of this award. I may mention here that an award of compensation being a lesser relief than an award for reinstatement, the order regarding payment of compensation is permissible though the issue raised only a question of reinstatement.

Issue No. 6.

7. The next issue, namely, Issue No. 6, relates to the question of Provident Fund. In the written statement submitted by the union a question of gratuity has also been raised. I do not think however that gratuity can be considered to be a part of or to be subsidiary to provident fund. I cannot therefore consider the question of gratuity. As regards the question of provident fund the Company has not raised any serious objection. I direct that a system of contributory provident fund in respect of the permanent employees be started with the least possible delay the rate of contribution by the company as well as by an employee being 54 per cent., that is to say, one anna in the rupee of the basic wages. I further direct that the rules of provident fund be framed as far as practicable on the basis of the Rules of Provident Fund as set forth in Appendix X on pages 169 to 174 of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, dated the 31st August 1948, as published by the Government of West Bengal Order No. 3443Lab., dated the 20th September 1948.

Issue No. 7.

8. I next take up Issue No. 7 relating to the subject of medical arrangements. I inspected the factory and observed the position with regard to this subject. A part-time M.B. doctor attends the factory for about an hour and he is said to be available at other hours in cases of emergency. A clerk in the service of the Company has been trained to work as a compounder, and there is no properly trained compounder or dresser. A small collection of medicines which may be required in connection with cases of injury is kept inside a small almirah marked "First-Aid Box". The collection of medicines is obviously very meagre and it does not meet the requirements in connection with cases other than those of injury by accident. The factory being small and the number of workers not being large, I do not propose to direct the Company to appoint a larger staff or to provide a larger collection of medicines. But I recommend that efforts be made as soon as practicable to improve the position regarding medical arrangements, which, at the present moment, do not appear to be adequate.

Issue No. 8.

9. I now pass on to Issue No. 8 relating to the subject of security of service. It appears that this Company has not yet framed any standing orders, and consequently the conditions of service are in a fluid condition. This industrial establishment employs more than 100 workmen and it is bound under section 3 of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, XX of 1946, to frame draft standing orders and to submit the same to the Certifying Officer. The Company is accordingly directed to take immediate steps in compliance with the provisions of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act.

9(1). The Union has put forward some suggestions relating to the question of security of service. After considering the suggestions from all points of view I direct that the following conditions of service shall be adopted:—

(i) In cases where an employee is not appointed permanently from the date of commencement of service the period of probation shall not exceed 6 months, and he shall be confirmed on the expiry of the period of probation thus prescribed, if his services are intended to be continued.

(ii) Orders of dismissal, discharge, suspension, or any kind of punishment other than warnings shall be made only after furnishing the employee concerned with a statement of the charges laid against him and after he has been given a full and fair opportunity to defend his case.

(iii) Retrenchments, if unavoidable, shall be carried out on the principle of "Last in, first out", so far as the particular department or section is concerned.

10. The next issue relates to the question of compensation for the loss of service from the 2nd April 1948 to the 22nd April 1948. The Union claims that the strike lasted from the 2nd April to the 22nd April 1948, and that the strike was caused by the alleged discharge of Juguldeo Sukla and Kanai Naskar. It is significant that in the original presentation of the case to the tribunal the impression was given that the strike lasted from the 2nd July 1948. At a later stage, during the episode relating to the discharge of Juguldeo and Kanai Naskar, it was stated that the strike lasted from the 2nd April to the 22nd April 1948.

1948. The matter was expressed in that way in paragraph 13 of the Union's statement in the hearing. "Brief history of the dispute" is also in paragraph 10 of the "Remedies suggested" At the hearing however the Union filed an application for amendment of paragraph 13 of "Brief history of the dispute" to the effect that the strike lasted from the 2nd April to the 22nd April and thereafter the Company declared a lock-out which lasted till the employees resumed work on the 11th July. In this application for amendment it has been alleged by the Union that the strike commenced suddenly on the 2nd April immediately after the discharge of two workers named Juguldeo Sukla and Kanai Naskar. The Company has denied that Juguldeo and Kanai were discharged at all, and it has been contended on behalf of the Company that the authorities were always prepared to allow those two workers to work. It appears that the Labour Commissioner had already started the conciliation proceedings before the strike commenced on the 2nd April and the strike was launched in the midst of the in spite of the conciliation proceedings. In the Union leaders did not care to attend the conference arranged by the Labour Commissioner on the 31st March. The Union had already presented a charter of demands to the Company and also a notice of strike. The Union apparently did wait for the result of the conciliation proceedings started by the Labour Commissioner. It is that the strike was the direct consequence of the discharge of Juguldeo Sukla and Kanai Naskar on the 2nd April. The attendance register of the Company does not indicate any note about alleged discharge, although in some cases of charge such notes exist. The absence of the workers from the morning or from the afternoon of the 2nd April, as shown in the attendance register, is consistent with the proposition that they also went on strike along with other workers on that date. The Union appears to have written a letter, dated the 4th April to the Company protesting against the alleged discharge of the workers, and the Company replied by its letter dated the 8th April, denying altogether the allegation of discharge. In a note of the Labour Commissioner, dated the 7th April, there is reference to the allegation made by the Union that the denial made by the Company with regard to this matter. In the final note of agreement signed by the representatives of both parties in the presence of the Labour Commissioner on the 11th July there is no reference to the alleged discharge of Juguldeo and Kanai. I have got no tangible evidence relating to the alleged discharge. Considering all the matters available I do not feel satisfied that Juguldeo Sukla and Kanai Naskar were really discharged on the 2nd April. The immediate cause alleged by the Union for the strike remains in the region of doubt. However it is that the strike was launched by the Union on the 2nd April while the conciliation proceedings were being carried on by the Labour Commissioner. The position therefore is that the Union did not care to try all the avenues of settlement before suddenly launching the strike. It appears to me that the Union did not give any chance either to the Company or to the Labour Commissioner before taking the drastic step of launching a strike. There can hardly be any question for the adoption of such a procedure. The question for compensation for the period of the strike appears to me to be rather unimportant. The question for consideration is whether the strike should be treated as having commenced on the 2nd April to an end on the 22nd April 1948. It is significant that in the original presentation of the case to the tribunal the impression was given that the strike lasted from the 2nd July 1948. At a later stage, during the episode relating to the discharge of Juguldeo and Kanai Naskar, it was stated that the strike lasted from the 2nd April to the 22nd April 1948.

application for amendment of the written statement, and in that application the question of having superseded the strike was raised. From the documents made available to me it is found that the Company declared a lock-out on the 27th April. In view of what I am finding in this case it is not necessary to go into the controversial question as to whether the lock-out commenced on or after the 22nd April. In the evidence adduced for the Company it is explained that a lock-out was declared on the 27th April owing to the criminal activities of some of the strikers, and in fact a case appears to have been instituted against them. That might be, the attitude of the Union even after the declaration of a lock-out by the Company on the 27th April appears to have a significant character. In a note made by the Labour Commissioner in his file on the 3rd April 1949, it is stated that the Union leader Sri Tarapada Acharya "expressed that the workers were not prepared to call off the strike unless three discharged workers were reinstated and that they were prepared to face all consequences arising from their strike". Again in the Labour Commissioner's note, dated the 21st June, 1949, I find it stated that the Union leaders "agreed to call off the strike if two of the retrenched workers, Sri Acharya and Abdul Hakim were reinstated". The attitude of the Union leaders in the course of these negotiations carried on by the Labour Commissioner sufficiently makes it clear that the lock-out declared by the Company on the 27th April was more or less a misnomer. In all practical purposes the lock-out was declared in so far as the employees under the leadership of the Union executive were determined to continue the strike even after the 27th April. In such circumstances like these it is unnecessary to go into the question as to how long the strike can be held to have lasted in the technical sense. In the written statement the Union also states that the strike lasted up to the 9th July. I can understand that this is a case in which any question as to the period of the strike and the lock-out is of little importance and the claim under Issue No. 1 is therefore rejected.

Sarkar, District Judge;

whereas the said Sri P. K. Sarkar, District Judge, has given the award as shown in the schedule appended hereto;

therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes

Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Mansfield & Sons, 16, Tangra Road, Calcutta, and their employees in connection with the case of Sri Nirmalendu Samajdar, 14, Luxmi Dutta Lane, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Sri J. K. Mandal.

Present for the employees: Sri Nirmalendu Samajdar.

AWARD.

By Government Order No. 5404Lab., dated the 31st October 1949, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I gave notice to the parties. Sri Nirmalendu Samajdar appeared on the 16th November 1949. Before this he had already sent his written statement by post asking for compensation on the ground of discharge without notice. The 30th November 1949 was fixed as the date for submission of the Company's written statement, but on that date Sri Nirmalendu Samajdar appeared with the representative of the Company and stated that the dispute between them had been settled by mutual agreement and that he did not want to proceed with the case any more. He also filed a statement to that effect. I understand from him that he has received some compensation from the Company. In view of the fact that the dispute has been settled amicably I award that no dispute exists between the Company and its employees over the case of Sri Nirmalendu Samajdar.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Management of Messrs. Bengal Industrial Works, Ltd., 45, Kasba Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Bengal Industrial Works Mazdoor Union, 5/1B, Dehi Serampore Lane, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule of the Government Order of Reference.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: (1) Sri S. P. Ghose, Advocate, and (2) Sri Nirmal Kanta Chakrabarty, Partner.

For the Union: Sri Nalini Kanta Das Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

By Government Order No. 3794Lab., dated Calcutta, the 2nd August 1949, the above dispute had been referred to me for adjudication.

The case of the Union related to the reinstatement of Rajendra Nath Das and two other workers and pay for the lock-out period, etc., which will be freely dealt with in the body of the award. The Company alleges that it is a very small concern employing only 40 persons out of which 12 boys are trainees and that the Company is financially incompetent to bear the burden of extra expenditure on account of the demand for higher wages by the Union.

Issues.

1. Reinstatement of (a) Rajendra Nath Das, (b) Phani and (c) Nandagopal Sen Gupta.
2. Pay for the lock-out period.
3. Fixation of wages and increments.
4. Leave.
5. Provident Fund.
6. Recognition of the Union.

Decision.

Before I proceed to make an award, I am glad to say that in this case both the Management and the Union showed a spirit of harmonious cordiality and agreed on many controversial points. The employers frankly indicated how far they were prepared to give concessions and the Union on the other hand properly considered the financial position of the Company and for this the congratulations go mostly to Babu Nalini Kanta Das Gupta, Pleader for the Union, and Babu S. P. Ghose, Advocate for the Company.

Issue No. 1.—Reinstatement of (a) Rajendra Nath Das, (b) Phani and (c) Nandagopal Sen Gupta.

Regarding the reinstatement, the controversial aspect of the merit or demerit of discharge was given up during trial. It was agreed that Rajendra would be reinstated under the Company if the Management fails to secure an alternative appointment for him in the Barasat-Basirhat Railway. The Union agreed to this point and the Company is therefore directed to implement the terms within one month from the date of the publication of the award. Regarding Phani, I order that he should be reinstated within a month from the date of publication of the award provided he submits a letter of apology expressing regret his conduct. Regarding Nandagopal, his was not pressed by the Union and as such order of his discharge stands confirmed. As such wages or compensation for the period of discharge were pressed and as such the two workers who were ordered to be re-employed will not get any wages etc., for the intervening period of discharge. I shall not be any break in their service.

Issue No. 2.—Pay for the lock-out period

Here also controversial aspect of it was a set or lock-out, was given up and it was agreed on both hands that the workers will be entitled to 15 days' full wages including dearness allowance from the Company.

Issue No. 3.—Fixation of wages and increments

According to award of the Major Engineering Tribunal, the minimum wages including dearness allowance for an engineering concern have been fixed at Rs. 55 per mensem. The financial position of the Company is not very happy—rather hopelessly bad—and the work in the factory also dwindled to some extent and it was urged that large number of workers has been surplus hands. The Company also labours a serious difficulty in procuring raw material. The Union, however, was reasonable and on suggestion it was agreed that for the present minimum basic salary should be Rs. 25 per mensem and similar dearness allowance, i.e., Rs. 25, totalling Rs. 50 per month. It is no doubt short of the minimum wages laid down by Engineering Tribunal award, but having regard to the special circumstances of this Company I do not but award as above. No order for increment or fixation of grade is necessary to be passed in view of the financial position of the Company.

I, however, find that large number of workers have been kept on basic wages varying from annas to 10 annas per diem and dearness allowance of Rs. 8 to 10 per month and their emoluments vary from Rs. 21 to Rs. 27 per month. This wage falls far below living wage and as such substantial revision is called for. Almost all of these workers have put in more than one year's service. The Management, however, asserts that most of these are boys and trainees and are not workers in true sense of the term and it is also urged that the trainees have no dependence on the Company and it is not possible for them to learn a trade within two to three years. I am inclined to draw the attention of the Management that in award of the Engineering Tribunal, the probationary period has been fixed at six months for engineering firms, after which the probationers should be confirmed. It is not at all desirable nor feasible that the training period in a small firm like this which produces only bolts and nut washers, should extend over two years. Management would be well-advised to confirm trainees who have completed one year's apprenticeship. The Management in this connection brought to my notice that if all the trainees to be at once made permanent, the Management will have to retrench some of the staff as at present there are many surplus hands. No order from the Tribunal is necessary to effect retrenchment. If, however, really there is such surplus, if the Management honestly thinks that there are surplus hands they are quite at liberty without referring to this Tribunal or to anybody to retrench its staff. It must not be understood however that the Tribunal is convinced of the paucity of workers of surplus hands. I order, therefore, that the Management may keep trainees only for a period of six months after which they may be ment, if found fit and be paid full wages of the worker. During the training period, the pay is adjusted on the scale maintained by the company and I do not want to interfere or lay any fixed scale regarding pay of such persons during the probationary period.

Issue No. 4.—Leave.

Regarding the leave, the Company at present allows ten days' statutory leave under factory holidays which is given at a stretch during the Puja festival. Besides this, festival leave for six days is also given. The Union presses for granting of leave during the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal and that the leave should be granted as per provisions given in the Major Engineering Tribunal award.

Issue No. 5.—Provident Fund.

pressed during the trial.

Issue No. 6.—Recognition of the Union.

It has been consistently held that the question of recognition of the Union is not an industrial dispute. Naturally, therefore, the Tribunal will not pronounce any verdict on this point.

Summary of the award.

Rajendra Nath Das will be reinstated within one month of the date of the publication of the award.

Mr. Das will be reinstated within one month of the date of publication of the award on tendering an affidavit in writing.

Madhopal's dismissal stands.

The Company will pay full wages for two months of the lock-out period.

Minimum basic wage is Rs. 25 plus dearness allowance Rs. 25. No increment or grade is awarded.

Leave as per directions given in the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal as published in the Calcutta Gazette of 3rd July 1948.

Claim of Provident Fund rejected.

Prayer for recognition of the Union not granted.

—Delay in return of securities to the Reserve Bank of India and consequential irregularities.

15th December 1949.—A case has come to notice in which a Public Debt security of the Reserve Bank of India returned a disbursement. The Treasury Officer concerned had not followed the instructions contained in Chapter VIII of the Government Securities Manual and the relative loan repayment circular issued by Reserve Bank of India. The Treasury Officer, in his turn, forwarded the security along with the objections to the holder, but did not press for its return for about two years. The holder in the meanwhile presented the said security at the Public Debt Office through a Bank for being negotiated the second time. The irregularity committed by the Treasury Officer in this case was due to—

(i) Non-observance of the instructions contained in Chapter VIII of the Government Securities Manual and the relative loan repayment circular issued by the Reserve Bank of India; and

(ii) Failure on his part to watch receipt of the security from the holder within a reasonable time.

2. In order to avoid the recurrence of similar irregularities the following instructions are issued for strict observance by all Treasury Officers in West Bengal including the Treasury Officer, Cooch Behar:—

- (1) The instructions contained in Chapter VIII of the Government Securities Manual and the relevant loan repayment circulars issued by the Reserve Bank from time to time should be strictly observed so as to minimise the objections from the Public Debt Offices;
- (2) The securities, on receipt from the Public Debt Offices with objections, should be entered in a register in a suitable form to be maintained for the purpose, noting therein the reference to the Public Debt Office letters and nature of objections;
- (3) The number and date of the forwarding letter to the holder concerned should similarly be noted against the entry and its acknowledgment and return closely watched;
- (4) Prompt action should be taken to get back the securities and the replies from the holder concerned by issuing fortnightly reminders and the No. and date of the communication quoted against the entries in the register;
- (5) Reminder received from the Public Debt Offices on the subject should be dealt with promptly by the Treasury Officer either personally or under his strict supervision;
- (6) The Treasury Officer should review the register periodically say, fortnightly, and record a certificate of such a review in the register; and
- (7) The register should be made available to the Inspecting Officer of this office for necessary check at the time the treasury is inspected.

ANNEXURE.

RE SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETD.),
Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal

The matter of an industrial dispute between the Bengal Enamel Works, Ltd., Palta, and its workmen represented by the Enamel Workers' Union, post office Palta, district 24-Parganas.

AWARD.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4434Lab., dated the 3rd December 1949, and by Corrigendum No. 5879Lab., dated the 22nd November 1949, this industrial dispute between the Bengal Enamel Works, Ltd., Palta, and its workmen represented by the Enamel Workers' Union, post office Palta, district 24-Parganas, has been referred to me as an industrial tribunal for adjudication. Under the order mentioned above the address of the Enamel Workers' Union was given as 118A, Ashutosh Mukherjee Road, Calcutta, and notices issued by this Tribunal accordingly. In course one Sri Adinath Banerji appeared on behalf of the Union claiming to be its Secretary, address being 118A, Ashutosh Mukherjee Road, Calcutta. At the same time one Sri Chitta Ranjan Chaudhury also appeared claiming to be Secretary of the same Union, and giving the address of the Union as post office Palta, district 24-Parganas. After hearing both the claimants the Tribunal found it impossible, in the absence of further materials, to determine who was the real present representative of the Enamel Workers' Union. The matter was accordingly referred to Government for further clarification as to the recognised personnel of the executive of the Union. Government eventually issued the corrigendum referred to above, by which it was made clear that the real address of the Union was post office Palta, district 24-Parganas and not 118A, Ashutosh Mukherjee Road, Calcutta. Notices were accordingly issued afresh on the Company and on the Union at the new address, the Union being required to file its written statement incorporating its demands on 1st December 1949. On 1st December 1949 Dr. U. P. Ganguli, representative of the Managing Agents of the Company, and Sri Chitta Ranjan Chaudhury, Secretary of the Enamel Workers' Union at the Palta address, appeared together and the Union Secretary filed a petition which is reproduced below :—

BEFORE THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL,
SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S.

Case No.

Enamel Workers' Union

vs.
Bengal Enamel Works, Ltd

SIR,

In connection with the above dispute, we respectfully beg to submit that since preferring our demands against the Company before the Government, we had several meetings and discussions with the Company including some of their Directors Lt Col. D. N. Bhattacharya, Principal J. K. Chowdhury, Sri Nripendra Nath Basu, B.L., and Dr. U. P. Ganguli and the employees of the Company have now reason to believe that it would not be profitable for them to proceed with the dispute which does no longer exist.

The Company has yielded to many of our demands and as for the rest, we are convinced that nothing can be done just now or hastily.

As we have been able to come to a fair amicable settlement, we do not further want to press for our demands or claims before the Hon'ble Tribunal with a view to get an adjudication.

We therefore pray that the case may be dropped.

Yours faithfully,

Enamel Workers' Union,

(Sd) UPENDRA CHANDRA GHOSH,
President

Enamel Workers' Union,
(Sd) C. R. CHAUDHURY,
Secretary

2. It will appear from the petition, dated 30th November 1949, filed before this Tribunal on 1st December 1949 that the Company and the workmen had come to an amicable settlement, and the Union no longer desired to put forward any claims before the Tribunal, and the Union had decided not to proceed with the industrial dispute which was stated to be no longer in existence. The step taken by the parties appeared to me to be somewhat extraordinary although it was gratifying to know that they had come to an amicable settlement so quickly. I decided to see the factory for myself to find out whether there was any genuine settlement of the dispute. I proceeded to the factory at Palta and saw the workmen at their work in the various sections, and also saw the Union office, the workmen's club and the housing conditions, etc. In course of my inspection I heard no complaint and I felt that a spirit of co-operation and goodwill was in existence between the authorities of the Company and the workmen, and both the parties seemed to be inclined to trust each other and to strive for their mutual well-being. In view of the petition filed before the Tribunal and in the light of what I saw on the spot I come to the conclusion that there is no industrial dispute in existence at the present moment. I make my award accordingly.

S. N. MODAK,
Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

The 2nd December 1949.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

R. Mukherji, District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherji, District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Annapurna Metal Works, 3, Ashu Biswas Road, Calcutta-25, and their workers represented by the Annapurna Metal Workers' Union, 24, Bondel Road, Calcutta, in connection with the case of Sri Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI,
Chairman Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company—Sri R. K. Ray, Bat.-at-Law.

For the Union—Sri Nilratan Singh, Secretary.

AWARD.

By Government Order No. 3792Lab., dated Calcutta, the 2nd August 1949, the above dispute has been referred to me for adjudication. The case of the Union who represented the case of Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty, one of the workers, is that the said employee was a clerk in the above concern and that he had been summarily dismissed for one day's absence without leave. The Union placed the claim for compensation by way of gratuity to the extent of three months' wages plus additional compensation of Rs. 100.

According to the employer this is not a case for payment of gratuity for the acts of the said employee amounted to major misconduct, and further that the claim is not maintainable as the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal does not warrant payment of gratuity in such cases.

ISSUES.

- (1) Is the Annapurna Metal Workers' Union a competent body to take up the case of the discharged clerk, Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty?

- (2) Is Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty entitled to any gratuity and compensation?

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1.—Is the Annapurna Metal Workers' Union a competent body to take up the case of the discharged clerk, Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty?

So far as the competency of the Union to represent the case of the employee is concerned the employer did not challenge the locus standi of the Union at the time of hearing. So the point decided in favour of the employee.

Issue No. 2.—Is Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty entitled to any gratuity and compensation?

Before discussing this issue it is necessary to take into consideration the facts leading to the dismissal of the worker. According to the management Gaur Chandra Chakrabarty was a clerk appointed in August 1944, and that he was tried in various departments, e.g., ration shop, store, office, and everywhere found incompetent, and that during the last year he grew more and more absconded and became thoroughly inefficient. On the 27th April last he was asked by the Works Manager to come early the next day as some consignments were due for booking, but he completely absented himself without any intimation although he resided close to the factory and was noticed on the streets near the factory by the other employees. On the next day when the General Manager remonstrated him, he behaved in an impertinent manner and so on the 30th April he was served with a month's notice terminating his appointment with effect from the 31st May 1949.

This allegation given by the management in the written statement was not pressed nor could be substantiated during the trial. Not a word was uttered justifying the dismissal of this particular employee. So I must take it this was an act of summary dismissal without sufficient reason. The management contended, however, that in principle, this employee is not at all entitled to any gratuity. It is to be remembered that the concern was a party to the Major Engineering Tribunal and the decision of the above Tribunal must be binding on this concern. It is better to refer to the relevant provisions contained regarding gratuity in the Major Engineering Tribunal. In discussing the issue No. 8, the Tribunal came down the following procedure:—

“(On termination of service by the employer either as the result of reduction of his establishment or in any other circumstance not justifying dismissal)—Half a month's pay for each complete year of service, irrespective of the length of service”. There was no case justifying dismissal in this particular employee, as such in my opinion he is entitled to gratuity. The clerk has put in 10 years' service. The clerk is, I understand, getting a substantive pay at the rate of Rs. 60 per month. Applying the principle of the Major Engineering Tribunal award, I think the justice will be fully met if he is allowed compensation by way of gratuity to the extent of Rs. 100. I order accordingly.

The management is directed to pay this amount to the employee within one month from the date of publication of the award. The award will come into effect on such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Judge, Industrial Tribunal

NOTIFICATIONS.

Subject:—Fixation of pay.

No. TM 15-1 996—2nd December 1949.—
Attention of all Drawing Officers of the Provincial Government under audit of this office is invited to the Government of West Bengal, Home (Transfer) Department, memorandum No. 3175(91)H.T.O./35B 17-48, dated 2nd June 1948 (both original and the substituted copy), regarding fixation of pay of persons employed for working out the Central Government's Scheme of Financial Assistance to Evacuees, etc., on their appointment under the Provincial Government, and they are hereby requested to furnish to this office a list of employees under them who are affected by the order referred to above and in whose case re-fixation of pay would be necessary in view of the decision contained in the substituted order.

This should be treated as immediate.

Subject:—Compulsory savings by Government servants through subscription to Provident Funds and emergency cut in pay for certain classes of Government servants.

No. TM 1025—9th December 1949. In continuation of this office notification No. TM/972, dated 28th November 1949, on the subject noted above, the following further instructions are circulated herewith for the guidance of all concerned:—

1. (a) Contract officers. All contracts generally contain a clause to the effect that in respect of any matter for which no provision has been made in the agreement, rules and orders applicable to other Government servants will apply. This condition is also implicit in any contract which does not specifically include this clause. Every contract will therefore be deemed to permit of a compulsory deduction as savings, and contract officers on a pay below Rs. 3,000 will be liable to subscribe compulsorily to a Provident Fund in terms of paragraph 5 of the office memorandum of the 15th November 1949.

(b) Every contract officer on a pay of Rs. 2,750 or above, whose contract does not permit of a compulsory cut, should be requested immediately to state in writing whether he desires to offer a voluntary cut, on the scale prescribed in paragraph 3 of that office memorandum, in modification of the terms of the contract. If he makes the offer, it should be formally accepted, and the offer and the acceptance recorded in writing; and the contract will be deemed to have been modified to that extent by mutual agreement between the employer and the employee. Income-tax will then be calculated on the income so reduced. If any officer does not desire to have his pay reduced, he will become liable to subscribe compulsorily to a Provident Fund at the rates prescribed in paragraph 5 of the office memorandum of the 15th November 1949.

(c) Contract officers of non-Asiatic domicile will remain exempt from these orders.

2. (a) All I.C.S. officers have to subscribe to the I.C.S. Provident Fund and to one or other of the Family Pension Funds, or to the I.C.S. (Non-European Members) Provident Fund in lieu of a Family Pension Fund. For the sake of uniformity, compulsory subscriptions by all I.C.S. officers under the orders of the 15th November 1949 should be to the I.C.S. Provident Fund. The minimum rates of subscription prescribed in paragraph 5(1) of these orders will be inclusive, for I.C.S. officers, of the subscriptions to both the funds.

(b) When an officer, who is subjected to a cut in pay, is on different rates of pay for portions of a month, or is in receipt of pay and leave salary for different portions of a month, the amount of deduction will be calculated separately for each portion of the month.

(c) When an officer proceeds on leave, his liability under paragraph 3(a) of the orders of the 15th November 1949 to an emergency deduction in pay will be determined by his pay immediately before proceeding on leave. The deduction will be made only during leave on average pay during which leave salary is not subjected to the absolute maximum prescribed in Fundamental Rule 89(2) and not during other leave; and will be calculated on the leave salary in the same ratio which the cut in the officer's pay bears to his pay.

(d) Where, however, an officer's leave salary during leave on average pay is below Rs. 2,750, the deduction will not be made. He will be required, instead, compulsorily to subscribe during that period to a provident fund in accordance with paragraph 5 of the orders of the 15th November 1949.

(e) These orders will apply to an officer on leave during any part of November 1949.

3. The term "pay" is used in these orders in the sense defined in the Fundamental Rules.

4. When an officer's pay is subjected to an emergency deduction, calculations of house-rent deduction, etc., when based on pay, will be made on the reduced pay.

5. For purposes of deduction and of calculation of compulsory subscription to a provident fund, only that portion of the pension actually included in the emoluments of a re-employed pensioner will be taken into account, and not any portion which has been commuted or held in abeyance.

6. When a Government servant to whom the orders of the 15th November 1949 apply is transferred to foreign service, care should be exercised to see that the terms of appointment on foreign service specifically include the applicability of these orders during the period of foreign service.

trial dispute arose on the charter of which could not be conciliated by the Directorate and was referred to this Trider sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Act, by Order No. 635Lab., dated 8th 1947, for adjudication. The Award of the was published in the Calcutta Gazette, th January 1948, and some of the terms ymment and conditions of service were im-award was in operation for a period of one year with effect from 8th October 1947 and expired on 7th October 1948.

A fresh charter of demands was submitted by the Workers' Union on 2nd March 1949 and those demands covered also the subjects adjudicated on in the previous award. An industrial dispute arose over these demands and the Labour Directorate started conciliation proceedings which, however, yielded no results and the dispute was referred by the Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Order No. 3253Lab., dated 8th July 1949, to me, for adjudication. In the same reference was also referred the industrial dispute between the Company and the Haji Ismail Sait & Sons, Ltd. Staff Union, which will be mentioned hereafter as the Staff Union. The dispute of the Company with the Staff Union arose on a charter of demands filed by the Staff Union on 27th May 1949, putting forward claims for improved terms and conditions of service.

Notices were issued on the parties and statements were filed by them. The Workers' Union and the Staff Union pressed their claims as preferred in the charter of demands filed by them on 2nd March 1949 and 27th May 1949, respectively. The Company opposed all the demands of the Unions on various grounds. Issues were framed on 25th August 1949.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

*For the Russia Distillery Workers' Union:—*Sri
A. C. Ghosh, Secretary, and some other workers

*For the Haji Ismail Sait & Sons, Ltd. Staff Union:—*Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader, and a few members of the staff.

*For the Company:—*Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, assisted by Sri J. K. Ghosh, Pleader, of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors,
Mr. A. Gulhar, Managing Director, and
Mr. W. Murdoch, Secretary of the Union.

The issues framed were as follows:—

Issues.

1. Dearness allowance.
2. Revision of basic pay.
3. Allowance for overtime work.
4. Free canteen or tiffin allowance.
5. Medical relief.
6. Rules of leave.
7. Provident Fund and Gratuity.
8. Railway free pass.
9. Payment for Viswarkarma Puja and Milad Sharif.
10. Free supply of coal.
11. May the Ganapola workers claim relief in this proceeding?

Decisions.

Issue No. 1.—Dearness allowance.

This claim was laid by both the Unions. The Workers' Union claimed dearness allowance at Rs. 65 per month. The Staff Union claimed de-arness allowance according to the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce at 80 per cent. of the pay over the first hundred, 40 per cent. over the second hundred, 20 per cent. over the third hundred and 10 per cent. over the fourth hundred, subject to a minimum of Rs. 56 per month.

The employees in the factory represented by the Workers' Union receive dearness allowance at Rs. 30 per month along with a house rent allowance of Rs. 6 per month and a canteen allowance of Rs. 3.4 per month. The additional remuneration in allowances received by a factory worker is at the flat rate of Rs. 39-4 including dearness allowance, house rent and canteen allowances. These allowances are also received by the peons and durwans of the Company. The Workers' Union stated in its written statement that the existing rate of dearness allowance of Rs. 30 per month required revision in view of a further rise in the cost of living index. The last award was in operation from October 1947. In October 1947, the cost of living index figures as compiled by the Office of the Provincial Statistical Bureau, Government of West Bengal, were 349-5 for the working class people. This figure gradually diminished till February 1948 and again rose and after slight variations stood at 374-8 in September 1949. The figures, therefore, show that the claim of the Workers' Union that there has been a substantial rise in the cost of living index figure since the last award came into operation is substantial. According to the recommendations of the Pay Commission the increase in the dearness allowance should be Rs. 5 and not more per month. The Company supplied a list of wages (Appendix B) received by its workmen in the month of October 1949 and it appears that in the lowest category of workers of 159 men, as many as 140 get a basic pay of Rs. 34 and a total wage of Rs. 73-4 per month. The time-scale increase of the basic pay is an important factor to be borne in mind in assessing the increase in dearness allowance to be effected in the case of the employees of this workshop. On account of the time-scale grades of the workmen, their basic wages have also been increased since the publication of the last award. In this Company the workmen enjoy time-scale grades of basic wages with annual increments. No workmen in the major industries in this Province, namely, the Jute Textile, the Cotton Textile, or the Engineering Industries enjoy time-scale grades of salaries. In view of these circumstances, I consider that the dearness allowance of the workmen should be increased by Rs. 5 making it Rs. 35 which will allow a substantial emolument to the workmen in view of the emoluments allowed in the other industries in West Bengal. This increase of dearness allowance should also attach to the peons and durwans of the Company.

The members of the clerical staff get a dearness allowance of Rs. 36 and a house allowance of Rs. 9 besides time-scale grades in basic pay with a minimum scale of basic pay of Rs. 60-5-110. Appendix C shows the list of wages payable to the peons, durwans and the clerical staff. The Staff Union claimed dearness allowance at 80 per cent. of the basic pay over the first hundred, 40 per cent. over the second hundred, 20 per cent. over the third hundred and 10 per cent. over the fourth hundred, subject to a minimum of Rs. 36 per month, according to the scheme of the scale of dearness allowance granted by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce employees of the Mercantile Tribunal to the clerks of 35 clerks engaged by the Company in Calcutta. 20 work in the factory and 1 am told that there are 2 Graduates and about 8 Matriculates in the clerical staff of this Company should get the same dearness allowance as is allowed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce or the Mercantile Firms in Calcutta, as the clerks in this Company are mostly factory clerks. There has been, however, a rise in the cost of living index in October 1947 as shown by the figures compiled by the Office of the Provincial Statistical Bureau, Government of West Bengal. In October 1947 the cost of living index figure for middle-class employees were 332-9 and that in September it was 357-3. In view of this rise in the cost of living index figures, I would consider that an increase in the dearness allowance to the extent of Rs. 5 per month is justified and I award accordingly. The minimum emolument at present received by the members of the clerical staff is Rs. 110 per month. With a further increase of the dearness allowance it will amount to Rs. 115 per month.

Issue No. 2—Revision of basic pay.

The demand for revision of basic pay was made only by the Workers' Union. At present the workmen of the factory receive basic pay in eight different categories of time-scale grades. These time-scale grades were introduced by the Commissioner of Excise, Bengal, in his letter No. 683E, dated 3rd May 1947, on a revision of the grades of pay and dearness allowance of the factory workers. These different grades of pay were as follows:

- (1) Rs. 30-2-50,
- (2) Rs. 35-2½-60,
- (3) Rs. 40-3-70,
- (4) Rs. 50-3½-85,
- (5) Rs. 60-3½-95,
- (6) Rs. 70-4-110,
- (7) Rs. 90-4½-135 and
- (8) Rs. 110-5-160.

Grade I includes the unskilled labour and are the general coolies; the other grades are the semi-skilled and the skilled workmen. Appendix A to this award shows the designation of the categories of workmen who are in receipt of the grade scales of basic wages mentioned above. The Union in its written statement claims a revision of wages of the various categories of workmen as follows:—

Categories of workers.

				Minimum basic wage.	Yearly increments.	Limit
				Per mensem. Rs.	Rs.
(a) Unskilled workers	55	4	10 years
	Present scale	(Rs. 30-2-50).	4	Dist.
(b) Lorry coolies, assistant to carpenter mistry, assistant to mixing mistry, strong godown mistry and assistant to copper mistry.	60	4	Dist.
	Present scale	(Rs. 35-2½-60).	4	Dist.
(c) Cooly sardar and Issac godown mistry	65	6	Dist.
	Present scale	(Rs. 40-3-70).	6	Dist.
(d) Fireman	80	6	9 years
	Present scale	(Rs. 50-3½-85).	6
(e) Junior mason mistry, carbon dioxide fitter, carpenter mistry, mixing mistry and stillman.	90	10	Dist.
	Present scale	(Rs. 60-3½-95).	10	Dist.
(f) Tindal and senior mason mistry, carbon dioxide fitter, carpenter mistry, mixing mistry and stillman and junior fitter.	100	10	Dist.
	Present scale	(Rs. 70-4-110).	10	Dist.
(g) Lorry drivers and copper mistry	125	10	Dist.
	Present scale	(Rs. 90-4½-135).	10	Dist.
(h) Senior fitters	150
	Present scale	(Rs. 110-5-160).

is stated by the Workers' Union in its written statement that as an average family of three members should live on an income ranging between Rs. 50 and Rs. 55 per month, they have claimed minimum basic wage of Rs. 55 per month for unskilled workers.

The Company opposes this claim of the Union and states that this question was thoroughly considered in the last adjudication and that it was in that award that the scales of basic pay as recommended by the Commissioner of Excise and revised by the Company were much more favourable to the employees than the scales of pay recommended by the Central Pay Commission and the Union's claim for revision of the wages was rejected. It was further pressed that in the previous award there has been no change of circumstances which would justify a revision of scales of basic pay.

In the award in the previous adjudication observed the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission showed the minimum pay of unskilled workers at Rs. 30— $\frac{1}{2}$ —35, that for a jamadar and fadar at Rs. 35—1—50 and that for skilled or semi-skilled workers at Rs. 35—1—50 and Rs. 40—0—2—60. These categories of employees have been mentioned as Class IV employees. There are higher categories of skilled artisans mentioned in Class III in the Report of the Central Pay Commission, where higher basic wages have been recommended. In the previous award the Tribunal rejected the claim of revision of basic wages and introduction of different grade systems of pay, as it considered that the scales of basic pay recommended by the Commissioner of Excise and allowed by the Company were much more favourable to the employees than the scales of pay recommended by the Central Pay Commission. The question that would arise now is whether there is any ground for acceding to the claim of a revision of the scales of basic pay in this present adjudication.

The Company pressed that the Tribunal should not revise the grade scales of basic pay, unless the employees proved any change of circumstances justifying such revision after the previous adjudication and referred to the observations of Sir H. B. Patia in the adjudication in the dispute between B. E. S. T. Co., Ltd., Bombay, and its non-scheduled employees, reported in Bombay Labour Gazette, December, 1947, page 482. The learned Judge at page 488 observes as follows:—

“Mr. Kolah on behalf of the Company contended that the adjudicator cannot give any decision about any matters for the period which was covered by the rejection of any demand made in previous adjudications and that the employees cannot make any demands in this adjudication which are substantially the same as those in the previous adjudications. Without going so far as to say that the employees are barred by res judicata, any demands which are made before me and are covered by any decision in the previous adjudications cannot be proceeded now unless the employees prove any change of circumstances over the previous decision. If there has been no change of circumstances, the mere ground that the previous adjudicator had not granted a demand would not, in my opinion, justify the employees in repeating the same demand before a new adjudicator, because that would be substantially asking the adjudicator to sit in judgment over the decision of another adjudicator. On principle one adjudicator should not change the previous award without proof of any new or altered circumstances.”

The same principles were followed by Sri F. Jejeebhoy in his award between the workmen employed in the Tin-plate Company of India, Ltd.,

Golmuri, Jamshedpur, and their employees published in the Bihar Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 14th March 1949. The learned Judge at page 4 observes as follows:—

“In a consideration of this subject we must start with the fundamental concept that an award of the Tribunal has the same force as any other award or decision and is entitled to the same respect. And it is but a corollary to this concept that the principle of res judicata should apply so that on the same facts and in the same circumstances the issues decided may not be re-tried in fresh proceedings with a view to securing a different decision. If it were otherwise, there would be no finality to decisions, with the unfortunate result that labour, unsuccessful on an issue, would wait discontented, restless and impatient for the period of the notification to elapse and would then embark on go-slow tactics or other equally questionable means to force a fresh reference from the Government in the absence of any change of circumstances.”

“As I conceive it, an award is final and binding for all times in matters relating to personal rights, as for instance, victimisation; and an award or agreement of parties on all other matters like wage structure, bonus, amenities, etc., is final and binding until altered by consent of parties or replaced by a fresh award based on change of circumstances. Such is the prevailing concept of awards and agreements in other countries which are equally conscious of the claims of labour, and it is in consonance with natural justice and with recognised legal principles.”

I have no doubt that the observations mentioned above enunciate sound principles of adjudication and I consider that these principles should be followed in the present adjudication. No change of circumstances justifying a revision of the basic wages since the previous adjudication has been suggested or proved by the Workers' Union. That being so, the claim for revision of basic wages and introduction of different grade systems of salary as raised by the Workers' Union is rejected and I award accordingly.

Issue No. 3.—Allowance for overtime work.

This issue was raised by the Staff Union and not by the Workers' Union. The Union's case is that the Company maintains a scheduled working period of 40 hours in the week for the clerical staff and that any work on holidays or on week days beyond the scheduled hours should be recognised as overtime work. It also states that the Company, in fact, recognises work on any holiday to be overtime and pay remuneration at the single rate of wages but refuses to apply the same principle for overtime work on week days. It has, therefore, claimed that the Tribunal should direct overtime payment at double rate for overtime work on week days and arrears due to each workman on the said calculation should be paid with effect from January 1949. The Company stated in reply that it could not agree to this proposal.

It was stated to me at the time of the hearing of the case, that the scheduled hour of work for the office clerks (15 in number) is from 9-30 a.m. to 5 p.m. from Monday to Friday and from 9-30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. There are 20 factory clerks who work in the factory in different shifts along with the workmen there. It does not appear that the weekly working period of the factory clerks is 40 hours but it appears to be so for the office clerks only. The Company tells me that the clerks are paid for work on holidays at overtime wage on single rate along with the actual conveyance allowance and a tiffin allowance of 12 annas, and that on week days when the clerks are asked to do any overtime work they get a tiffin allowance of 12 annas. The learned pleader for the Staff Union argued that as 40 hours is the working period for the clerks, any work over that period shall be considered as overtime work under the law and should be paid for at double the rate of wages. The overtime wage for the factory clerks are guided by the Factories Act and those for the office clerks by the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940. Under section 51 of the Factories Act, no adult worker is required or allowed to work in a factory for more than forty-eight hours in any week. Under this section a worker may be permitted to work for a shorter period than 48 hours. But the provision for extra wages for overtime work under section 59 lays down that where a worker works in a factory for more than 9 hours in a day or 48 hours in a week, he shall, in respect of overtime work, be entitled to wages at the rate of twice his ordinary rate of wages. This clearly shows that even though a worker may be permitted to work in a factory by an employer for a period of less than 48 hours in a week, he shall not be entitled to double rate of wages for overtime work, unless he works for more than 9 hours in any day or for more than 48 hours in any week. In the same way under the section 7 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, no person employed in a shop is required or permitted to work in such shop for more than 10 hours in any day or for more than 56 hours in any week or after half past eight o'clock in the evening. Under this section also the employer can make his employee work for less than the maximum period laid down in this section. The provision for wages of overtime work shown in section 13, however, lays down that overtime wages at 1½ times the ordinary rate of wages shall be payable only when the employee is made to work in the establishment, in excess of the maximum limit of hours specified in section 7. It clearly appears that the claim for overtime wages under the relevant Acts arises when the employee is made to work beyond the maximum period laid down as the working period for the workman. The claim of the Staff Union that any work beyond the period of 40 hours should be paid for at double the rate of wages is, therefore, not worthy of support. In the circumstances, I award that the Company will pay wages and compensation for overtime work in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act for the factory clerks and the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act for the office clerks subject to the condition that the existing privileges should not be curtailed.

Issue No. 4.—Free canteen or tiffin allowance.

The Workers' Union made the demand for free supply of meal and tea for workers. Under the previous award the Company has to contribute a monthly sum of Rs. 700 for the cost of the canteen which was directed to be managed entirely by the workers at their own cost with this subsidy. This amount was calculated at 2 annas per head of the workers who partake of the food in the canteen on the calculation that a meal in the canteen would cost a sum of 4 annas in total per head. The Workers' Union's demand that meal should be supplied free in the canteen was not allowed in the previous award. I do not consider that there has been any change of circumstances that justifies a revision of this award as to the canteen. It is, therefore, awarded that the same directions as to the canteen as in the previous award shall continue.

The Staff Union claimed a tiffin allowance of Re. 1 per day for the clerical staff. It states that tiffin or tiffin allowance is allowed to Officers of the Company excluding the clerical staff only and that this discrimination was an unfair labour practice, particularly in view of the fact that the Company agreed to allow the benefit to the clerical staff at the instance of the Labour Directorate. I do not find anything in the record of the Labour Commissioner to show that there was any direction from the Labour Commissioner to grant any allowance to the clerical staff. The Staff Union also did not show anything to support this statement. The clerical staff is allowed tiffin or tiffin allowance when they work overtime or on holidays. I, however, direct that a cup of tea should be given to all the clerks once in the day, as is done in some of the Mercantile Firms in Calcutta. The claim for tiffin allowance of Re. 1 per day is rejected.

Issue No. 5.—Medical relief.

The Workers' Union states in the written statement that the Company reduced the Medical Budget to Rs. 500 per month and this has resulted in the curtailment of the medical benefits to a considerable extent. It lays down the following claims in order to restore the old medical privileges and to introduce some new benefits:—

- (a) As before the factory doctor should be made available all day and night by appointing a local doctor
- (b) The prescribed diet bills, cost of the prescribed medicines, doctor's fee, travelling allowance to the patient, etc., to be paid by the Company as before, and the payment to be made at once with the prescription.
- (c) The Company to arrange for the treatment of all sorts of diseases including the chronic ones.
- (d) The patients residing at distant places to be treated at their own residence
- (e) The Company to pay for whatever is advised on medical ground even to the extent of the necessary expense for a change of climate.
- (f) In case of emergency the patients to have the right to call on a local doctor and the Company to pay all expenses in that connection.
- (g) Two beds to be kept reserved in hospital."

The Company states that it considers the arrangements satisfactory, taking into consideration the financial position of the Company and the recommendation of the Commissioner of Excise West Bengal. It states that the Commissioner has laid down the limit to which he is prepared to allow for inclusion of the medical expense in the cost price at Rs. 6,000 per annum and if the Company exceeds the limit laid down by the Government it cannot recover the excess in the cost price allowed by the Government, although as a matter of fact, the Company is now spending in excess of the limit made in this behalf at its great financial loss. The Company, therefore, does not agree to the proposal made by the Union. No demand on this head was made at the time of the previous proceedings before this Tribunal.

At the time of the hearing, the Company informed me that it spends at least Rs. 9,000 the year on this head for the employees and that employees are even allowed costs for special diet and free medicine on the bills made by the doctor of the factory.

The Staff Union also made a claim on this head and stated that the Company should arrange for whole-time competent medical man to attend to workmen and their dependents in the factory or their private residence, when necessary, free of charge, and should supply free medicine and medical diet as required. This Union also insists on periodical examination of health and systematic consideration in all cases.

the Unions, I am afraid, are labouring under wrong impressions as to the responsibility of the employer in respect of providing medical facilities to the workmen. The entire responsibility in respect of improved medical facilities should be thrown on the employers alone and they have a substantial part to play with regard to the matter. Reference may be made to the discussion on the subject in the award of the Major over the Jute Textile Industry at pages 10 and 11.

The State is going to take up the matter of providing medical facilities available to industrial workers generally, under the Employees' State Insurance Act, which is expected to be in force in the very near future. The operation of the Employees' State Insurance Act will remove the present defects and most of the demands of the Unions will be met. At present, I consider that the existing arrangements for affording medical facilities to the workers of this industry should be continued. As seen from the record of the Labour Commission, an agreement was reached between the Company and the Workers' Union on this subject. A letter was addressed by the Company to the Union with copies to the Commissioner of West Bengal, the Labour Commissioner, Calcutta, the Collector of Excise, Calcutta, the Joint Secretary of the Staff Union. A copy of this letter is appended to this award as Appendix "D". It is awarded that the existing arrangements as supplemented by the provisions in Appendix "D" should be followed by the Company.

It is also noted that the treatment of chronic cases of disease or a serious nature involving too much strain on the resources of the employees, is a disturbing factor in the matter of medical facilities to the workmen. I am told that a number of such cases have appeared in the workmen. In the dispute between Hooghly Bank and their employees (April 1948) I gave an award for creation of a medical fund with contributions from the employees and the employer—Rs. 1 per head in the year and the Company also contributed an equal amount, to form a joint fund to be administered by a Board of members, two of whom were to be nominated by the Management and one by the representatives of the employees. I would recommend that a similar fund should be created in this case with a contribution of, say, Rs. 2 per head of employees, in the year and an equal amount as contribution from the employer, which should be drawn from the medical budget of the Company, and a fund created with this amount for financial aid to the employees in case of prolonged or serious illness of the employees. The administration of the fund may be vested in a Board of three members as in the Hooghly Bank case, as the parties may agree. As this matter was suggested before me and I did not receive any objections of the parties on such a scheme at the time of the hearing, I refrain from making any award on this matter but recommend that the Company should make an attempt at the creation of such a fund under the advice and guidance of the Directorate.

Issue No. 6.—Rules of leave.

The Workers' Union demanded one month's privilege leave in the year with full pay, one month's casual leave in the year with full pay, one month's medical leave with full pay for the whole of illness. At present, the workers enjoy one month's privilege leave under the Factories Act, one month's casual leave for 27 days in the year and one month's medical leave for 10 days with full pay and another month's leave with half pay. In the previous award, no provision of leave for workmen was found to be satisfactory and no revision of the leave rules was effected. The Company opposed the claim on the ground that there was no justification for a revision of the rules which were found to be satisfactory by the previous Tribunal. The New Factories Act (Act LXIII of 1948) in section 79, amended the rule as to the privilege leave on full pay in the year. I do not find any justification for revising the other kinds of leave and holidays enjoyed by the Workers' Union and this claim is rejected.

The Staff Union did not claim for any revision of the leave rules but demanded that the privilege leave of one month should be allowed to be available to workmen on his asking or at least within one month from the date of application and that at any event the privilege leave if not allowed shall be compensated by wage in lieu thereof and nobody should suffer any loss on this account because the Company could not spare him when his leave was due. The Workers' Union also made a similar demand with respect to privilege leave enjoyed by them. It is directed that the Company should grant privilege leave to a workman that has fallen due to his credit and for which he has applied, unless it is impossible for the Company to grant such leave for exigencies of service, but that in such a case, the workman shall be entitled to carry forward the unavailed leave without any limit. In such circumstances, the direction becomes necessary that if a worker entitled to privilege leave is discharged from or quits his employment at the factory or the establishment after having applied for and having not been granted the privilege leave, the Management shall pay him the amount of emoluments payable for such leave when his employment is terminated. Such a provision for the factory workers will be found in section 79(7) of the Factories Act, and it is also made applicable to the clerical and the subordinate staff in the circumstances of the case, and it is awarded accordingly.

Issue No. 7.—Provident Fund and Gratuity.

There is a Provident Fund Scheme in operation in the factory as well as in the office, with a contribution of 6½ per cent of the basic pay on either side. The Workers' Union claimed for a contribution of another 6½ per cent on either side. There is no ground for increasing the contribution to the Provident Fund and the claim is rejected.

The Workers' Union also claimed Gratuity by way of a retiral benefit at the rate of one month's wage for every completed year of service. The Staff Union also claimed the same amount of Gratuity in consideration of the fact that the Provident Fund Scheme of the Company is of very recent growth and made no consideration for past years of service. It appears that the Provident Fund was started in April 1946.

I do not consider that the employees are entitled to both kinds of benefit, in Provident Fund as well as in Gratuity. As the Company allows the benefit of the Provident Fund contribution I consider that the employees should not be given the additional advantage of Gratuity as claimed by the Workers' Union. As, however, the Provident Fund was started in April 1946, the benefit to the old employees from the Provident Fund will be unsubstantial. On giving careful consideration to the matter, I have come to the conclusion that the claim of the Staff Union on the point is justified and that a system of Gratuity of a complementary character should be introduced to meet the needs of the old employees and also employees in general under the circumstances of death or retirement on account of superannuation or on medical grounds. It is awarded that there should be a

Issue No. 11.—May the Ganjagola workers relief in this proceeding?
The Workers' Union

- The Workers' Union states that there was no provision for dearness allowance for the staff of Ganjagola and they should be granted dearness allowance. The Company opposes this claim on the ground that this question opposes this claim. This matter of this adjudication. It further states that the dearness allowance to the Ganjagola staff cannot be considered by reason of the fact that the staff was recruited under the present day existing living conditions and the remuneration of the staff has been fixed by the Excise Directorate. It appears that the Ganjagola was started after the partition of the Province in August 1947, and the direction of the Commissioner of Excise and the Company was entrusted to take up the work of transport, receipt, storage and issue of Ganjagola Bhang at the instance and cost of the Local Government. Sri A. K. Mukherji, Special Superintendent of Excise, who was present at the meeting, informed me that the Ganjagola Staff will be drawn from the Company in February 1948. Papers were produced before me to show that Ganjagola establishment in which there are four employees were paid by the Company as agent of the Government by money received from the Government. It is not possible for the Company to take any financial commitment for the Ganjagola staff. This claim of the Workers' Union is therefore, rejected.

The Workers' Union claimed 2 maunds of coal per head per month at the Company's cost. The Company opposed this claim and states that coal cinders are supplied at 10 annas per maund and those employees who do the work of picking the cinders get their supply free. This practice availing in the Company should continue. The claim for supply of 2 maunds of coal per head per month is rejected.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENTJudicial*RESOLUTION No. 6764J.Calcutta, 17th December 1949.*

The question of reorganisation of the ~~tem~~ of Administration of Justice in the Province has been under the consideration of the Government for some time and the Government has decided that a Committee designated as Judicial Reforms Committee should be appointed to consider the matter and to present a report to the Government with their recommendations on the following points:—

1) Reform in the system of Administration of Justice in Calcutta with particular reference to the following questions:—

(a) whether there should be a City Civil Court and City Sessions Court for the Calcutta area to bring the Administration of Justice in the Presidency Town of Calcutta in line with the system in the remainder of the Province;

(b) whether such City Civil and Sessions Court, if established, should have jurisdiction over the Presidency Town of Calcutta only or over the whole area administered by the Calcutta Corporation, and in the latter case how the jurisdiction of the Civil and Sessions Courts of 24-Parganas at Alipore should be modified;

(c) whether the Calcutta Small Cause Court should remain as a distinct Court or be amalgamated with City Civil and Sessions Court;

(d) whether the Original Side of the Calcutta High Court should have concurrent jurisdiction, either

(i) generally, or

(ii) in suits above a certain value,

with the Courts at Alipore, Sealdah and Howrah or alternatively with all Civil Courts in the Province;

(e) whether the existing Admiralty, Vice-Admiralty, Testamentary, Intestate and Matrimonial jurisdictions should be exercised solely by the Original Side of the Calcutta High Court;

(f) whether the Original Side of the Calcutta High Court should be retained and, if retained, its procedure should be brought into consonance with the procedure in the Civil Courts of the districts; and

(g) whether the continued existence of the Special Children's Court to deal with juvenile delinquents is necessary.

2) Reform in the Administration of Justice in the rural areas with particular reference to the following questions:—

(a) whether the system of Union Bench's and Courts established under the Village Self-Government Act should be extended or they should be replaced by other judicial bodies; and;

(b) whether the system of Circuit Courts of Munsifs and Magistrates should be introduced to visit selected rural centres at fixed intervals to deal with Civil and Criminal cases more expeditiously in the locality.

(3) Reform of the Legal Professions with particular reference to the questions:—

(a) whether the dual system now existing in the Original Side of the High Court, of Solicitors who may act but not plead and Advocates who may plead but not act, should be retained;

(b) whether there should be any distinction among the various classes of lawyers in the matter of the right to practise in various Courts; and

(c) whether there should be one unified class of lawyers with the same rights and privileges and in particular whether the recruitment of Solicitors, Muktears and Revenue Agents should be continued.

(4) The question of State-aid to indigent litigants with reference to the question whether the concession now extended by Government, viz., provision of lawyers at Government cost to indigent persons charged with capital crimes and waiving the payment of court-fees in Civil Suits and Appeals by paupers, should be extended and, if so, in respect of which cases or class of cases and to what extent

2 The Government of West Bengal accordingly appoint the Committee with the following members, viz

(1) The Hon'ble Sir Arthur Trevor Harries, Chief Justice, Calcutta High Court, who will act as Chairman of the Committee.

(2) Sri N. C. Chatterjee, Barrister-at-Law, ex-Judge, High Court, Calcutta.
